"How am I to tell when a whiskey is pure, by the taste?" No, indeed; many an impurity is hidden behind a whiskey that's "doctored" to taste good. The surest safeguard is the label. If Oppenheim's name is on it there is no room for doubt. Its purity is guaranteed.

Jury will urge the acquittal of Thaw on the theory that he was temporarily insane at the time he killed White. Life will argue that the defense has shown beyond doubt that Thaw's mind was unhinged by the story which Evelyn Nesbit Thaw told him before they were married and that it was while in a condition of mental irresponsibility that he took White's life. He will attempt to discredit Abraham H. Hummel, who has testified that Evelyn Thaw told him everything that was in the affidavit, by showing Hummel's record.

District Attorney Jerome will claim that there is nothing in the case to show that Thaw suffered from anything more than jealousy. The case has been fought to the last ditch by both sides and what the jury will do no one can tell. In case of conviction there will, of course, be an immediate motion for a new trial. Mr. Delmas has saved all his exceptions and his constant objecting may have served to inject reversible error into the case.

Thaw Aids Flood Sufferers. Pittsburgh, Pa., March 19.—Mayor George W. Guthrie of this city received a letter from Harry K. Thaw today, in which a check for $100 was inclosed to aid persons suffering from the flood of last week. The letter is as follows: "New York, March 15, 1907.—Dear Mr. Guthrie: Owing to demands upon me I can only send $100 toward the relief of the sufferers by the unprecedented flood. A check for that amount is enclosed.

"Very sincerely yours," "HARRY K. THAW."

The mayor replied that no fund had been raised in Pittsburgh but that one had been raised in Allegheny, and asked what disposition should be made of the money.

TO START PAPER AT SAVANNAH. F. L. Seely in the Forest City Looking Over the Ground.

Savannah, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—F. L. Seely, of the Atlanta Georgian, is here and it is authoritatively stated that he will start a newspaper in Savannah. He is now looking over the field. The proposed paper is to be issued daily in the afternoon. They are killed with the Press, Colonel P. A. Stovall's paper.

EYEGLASSES ADJUSTED FREE. John L. Moore & Sons will adjust and polish your eyeglasses free of charge, whether purchased of them or not. If you have trouble in being fitted with new glasses call on them. They are killed in frame work 42 N. Broad street.

MAY REACH JURY TODAY. Case Against Joshua Harrison Draws to a Close.

Charlotte, N. C., March 19.—The case of Joshua Harrison, charged with the kidnapping and murder of Kenneth Beasley, the 9-year-old son of former State Senator Beasley, will probably reach the jury at Elizabeth City tomorrow afternoon, following the speech of Solicitor Ward, who will close the argument. Three sessions of Pasquotank county court were held today and tomorrow, rounding out two full days of speech-making by counsel. Counsel for the state have made fierce assaults upon the alibi put up by the defense, while the efforts of Harrison's lawyer have been directed to impugning the character of the witnesses who have woven the strong chain of evidence around the prisoner.

WERE KILLED BY EXPLOSION. White Man and Negro Instantly Killed, and Negro Injured.

Columbia, S. C., March 19.—(Special.)—N. R. Lester and a negro and were instantly killed, and another negro was seriously injured as the result of a boiler explosion on the place of Lester, about five miles from Prosperity, and caused many persons to rush out of the store and offices to inquire into the cause of the explosion about 15 minutes after the explosion was heard. A. M. Lester received a telephone message informing him of the accident. Owing to the fact that there are no direct telephone connections with the scene of the explosion, the particulars have not yet reached Prosperity. N. R. Lester was a prominent citizen of this community, and an influential member of St. Luke's church.

102 IN THE SHADE OUT IN OKLAHOMA. GUTHRIE, OKLA., March 19. All heat records of Oklahoma were broken when the thermometer this afternoon registered 102 in the shade. The unusual heat was accompanied by a stiff breeze. Reports from all over the territory are of a like nature. At Oklahoma City the mercury reached 97, and at Thomas 92.

RAIL MAGNATE SEES ROOSEVELT

But Mellen Is Silent as to the Interview.

Roosevelt Is Studying the Question and When He Makes Up His Mind, He Will Have Something to Say.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—The interview between President Roosevelt and Charles S. Mellen, the president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, recently arranged for the purpose of discussing the railroad situation, took place at the white house. It lasted not more than 35 minutes. No statement of the particular questions discussed was made at the white house, and Mr. Mellen declined to talk.

Mr. Mellen's visit today is the outcome of a call made to the white house last week by J. Pierpont Morgan, the New York financier, who came to Washington at the request of many business men to discuss the present business situation, particularly as affecting the railroads. At the time Mr. Morgan suggested to Mr. Roosevelt that he would see certain railroad presidents and confer with them, "as to what steps might be taken to allay the public anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the government."

Mellen Came After Conference. The visit of Mr. Mellen followed the conference he had several days ago with Presidents McCrea, Newman and Houghton, of the Pennsylvania, New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern railroads, respectively. These four were the names suggested to Mr. Roosevelt by Mr. Morgan. It is not known at the white house whether Messrs. McCrea, Newman and Houghton will visit Mr. Roosevelt. The president will see them if they come. So far they have not been heard from.

During the past three weeks President Roosevelt has had visits from half a dozen well known financiers and railroad men, with all of whom he has discussed various phases of the railroad situation. These include J. Pierpont Morgan, James Speyer, of New York; President Stickney, of the Chicago Great Western railroad; B. F. Yoakum, of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; E. H. Harriman, of the Union Pacific; and Charles S. Mellen, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad.

Statement Is Wanted. All of these persons have made specific recommendations. Incorporating their ideas on the question whether the president should recommend additional railway legislation and in what form, and to make a statement defining his attitude in explicit terms with a view to allaying public apprehension on the subject that may exist. He has referred them to the public declaration of this general subject, and has told them that he means to be consistent with what he has already said. The president says frankly that he is learning all he can about the railroad situation, and that he intends to continue to consult the railroad people and others on the subject. It is understood he is making inquiries on some points pertaining to federal supervision and control of the railroads, to the question of an appraisal of the physical valuation of such properties, and to the matter of the issue of various forms of indebtedness.

Message from Roosevelt. The president has made it plain to his cabinet that he cannot be expected to outline his policy in informal talks with them, and that inferences as to his attitude must not be drawn from what he says in these casual talks. When he has made up his mind, and is ready to tell the public just what his attitude is on particular questions, and specifically on the railroad issue, he will do so in a speech or in a message to congress. Some expressions from him are expected on the railroad question during the next few months. The president is scheduled to make four speeches between now and the middle of June, and it is expected that he will have something to say on the railroad question in one of these speeches.

Trust Company for Washington. Washington, March 19.—Articles of incorporation of the United States Trust Company, to do a general banking business in the District of Columbia for fifty years, were filed here today in the office of the recorder of deeds. The capital stock is $1,000,000. Morgan is named as president and C. J. Rixey, W. J. Oliver and W. J. Bellas, vice presidents.

ONLY TEMPORARY SUSPENSION. Daily American, of Birmingham, Hopes To Resume in Thirty Days. Birmingham, Ala., March 19.—It was announced tonight that the Daily American, the new morning newspaper started in Birmingham January 5, had suspended publication. It was said by the management that the suspension was only temporary, and that publication would be resumed in about thirty days. It was also said that it would not take long to put in the proper equipment to handle the growing business of the publication.

Negro Jail Bird Caught. Conyers, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—Seward Brown, one of the two colored jail-birds who bored their way out of Rockdale county prison about two weeks ago, was captured yesterday. For the arrest of these culprits a reward of $25 each was offered by our county commissioners. Brown wandered down to Harlem and back, recognized by Mr. Bell, ex-prisoner, and was captured, at once made the runaway prisoner. Mr. Bell telegraphed the news to Colonel Austin, our sheriff, and quickly returned to the prison. Brown, and this morning Brown, who is charged with attempted murder, finds himself here in his old cell. The other escaped prisoner has not been caught.

METHODISTS PLANNING TO RAISE LOAN FUND

THE board of church extension of the Atlanta Methodist church held an enthusiastic meeting last night at the Grace Methodist church. Plans were put on foot to raise immediately a large loan for the erection of Methodist churches, and for lending to churches now in debt, in order to further the general work of the Methodist church in the city. The following officers were elected for the coming year: W. O. Poole, president; Dr. R. R. Kime, vice president; E. T. Morgan, secretary; F. A. Quillian, treasurer. In addition to the officers, the following executive committee was elected: W. S. Thomson, chairman; R. A. Hemphill, W. S. Witham, J. K. Polk, George Muse.

A delightfully prepared supper was served at present by the ladies of Grace church, under the direction of Dr. R. R. Kime, who is president of the church extension society of the church. Resolutions of thanks were extended to Dr. Kime, the church society, and the ladies of the church. Motions were passed looking to the revival of interest in the work of extending local Methodism, and the treasurer of each local church extension society were instructed to get to work and turn in their money to Mr. Quillian at once. Three hundred dollars was appropriated to the Lakewood Heights Methodist church to assist them in paying off a debt now due.

HE REFUSES TO STAIN NAME OF THE WIFE OF HIS FRIEND ALTHOUGH SHOT BY FRIEND

SOUTH BEND, IND., March 19.—Although probably crippled for life, by a bullet fired by his friend, Frank Howland, Charles Carroll refuses to charge the former with attempted murder, and the police are powerless to act against him. The officers allege that Carroll had ruined Howland's home, and claim that Mrs. Howland confessed to her part of the nearly fatal tragedy. Carroll, however, refuses to stain the woman's reputation, and advances the plea that Howland shot him by mistake, thinking him a burglar. The men reside at Goshen.

PASSED 80TH BIRTHDAY, LEAVES 360 DESCENDANTS

WEST POINT, GA., March 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Caroline Smith died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Sands, near Five Points, Ala. Had she lived three weeks longer, Mrs. Smith would have attained her eightieth birthday. She was the mother of fifteen children, thirteen of whom are living. Her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren number 360. Her remains were interred this morning at Hopewell, the family burial ground, near Whitesville, Ga. She is survived by six sons, Joe C. O. K. C. M. James, and Ben Smith, and seven daughters, Mrs. C. G. Sands, Mrs. M. B. Jennings, Mrs. A. O. Piper, Mrs. J. Parker, Mrs. N. Daniel, Mrs. G. H. Weldon, Mrs. J. H. Hames and Mrs. J. H. Sands.

STUMP HITS WOMAN'S HEAD AND DAMAGE SUIT FOLLOWS

ATHENS, GA., March 19.—(Special.)—Julia Wymbs, of this city, has filed suit against the Gainesville Midland Railway Company for damages alleged to have been received in January. She alleges that in blasting in this city the defendant company threw a piece of stump one hundred and fifty feet, striking her on the head and inflicting permanent injuries.

CAT ADOPTS YOUNG RABBIT AS COMPANION TO KITTEN

THOMASTON, GA., March 19.—(Special.)—A cat belonging to Dock Morris, of this place, recently gave birth to one kitten. The kitten lived about a week old, and was evidently very homesick. The mother cat went out into the field back of the house and caught a young rabbit, and brought and placed it in the box with the kitten, and she is now the proud mother of two children. The cat seems equally divided between her child and the adopted one. It is a most unusual sight, and many have been to see for themselves, and verify this strange affection. The little family of three seem to be quite contented.

TEN CARLOADS OF STEEL FOR WASHINGTON VIADUCT

TEN car loads of steel for the south end of the Washington street viaduct have arrived, and been delivered ready to be put in place. This shipment of steel includes several of the large girders which will constitute the section of the viaduct known as the steel span, which starts at Washington street and ends at Collins street. The steel section is being built by Grant Wilkins, of Atlanta. Recently both the contractors were asked to appear before the council committee on finance and state why they should not be made to pay the daily forfeits which were stipulated, and which have been in force since last December. The Oliver company, which is building the concrete or pier section, was held liable for the forfeitures, but Grant Wilkins was given more time. Mr. Wilkins stated that he had made every possible effort to get the necessary steel, but the mills would not deliver it.

BROTHERS LOVE SAME WOMAN AND THEY FIGHT TO DEATH

New York, March 19.—Two brothers who loved the same woman fought with knives and clubs in an east side saloon early today until both were so desperately injured that they probably will die. The men are George and Giovanni Francesco, who came to America from Palermo about two years ago. There they had both been rivals for the hand of the same girl, who ostensibly accepted George, the elder, and they were married shortly before the trio came to New York. Not long after their arrival George began to neglect his wife, and at length she left him and went to live with friends in Brooklyn. When the brothers met in the east side saloon early today Giovanni upbraided George for his treatment of the young wife, taunted him in front of a number of Italians, and admitted that he—the younger brother—still loved the woman.

NEGRO GIRL NOW WRIGGLES LIKE SNAKE ON THE GROUND

ATHENS, GA., March 19.—(Special.)—There is a very peculiar case of a negro girl turning around into a snake in Madison county. This girl is 18 years old and lives at Planters, in that county. A few days since she became afflicted in a most peculiar manner. She would have attacks that would last several minutes, during which time she would writhe exactly as a snake. These attacks have increased from day to day until now she spends most of her time in wriggling around on the ground and over the floors with all the sinuous movements of a snake. People from all over that section have come to see her and to witness her remarkable transformation. This girl thinks she has been poisoned by a lover. In fact, there is a negro who has been going to see her who is to stand a preliminary trial Saturday on the charge of having attempted to poison her.

HE COULD NOT WIN A BET AND SO KILLED HIMSELF

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 19.—Hard Rock at the local race track, is believed to have been cause of the death of a man whose unidentified body now lies in the morgue here. The man committed suicide today in City park by drinking laudanum. He was recognized by the police as a follower of the races, who had been far from successful in the betting ring. His clothes bear the names of Chicago arms.

AGED KING LEOPOLD HAS BRAIN TROUBLE

Brussels, March 19.—Despite official denials, private investigation confirms the report that King Leopold, who is visiting the Riviera, recently suffered a cerebral attack, and was for some time unconscious. He is nearly 72 years old. It is now announced that he will return much sooner than was expected.

KING LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM.

MORTUARY

James Heard. The body of County Police Officer James L. Heard, who was killed at Brownsville last September, will be disinterred at Oakland cemetery tomorrow morning and removed to the family burial plot at Oak Grove, about 10 miles from the city. The county policeman will furnish an escort and will meet at the undertaking parlors of Harry G. Poole at 9 o'clock.

Miss Annie Hudgins. The funeral services of Miss Annie Lee Hudgins, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hudgins, who died Monday morning at Chambers, were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at Indian Creek, the body being taken to Clarkston for interment.

Death of Infant. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Warren, of 184 South Boulevard, died at the home of the parents yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The funeral services will be held at the chapel of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield this morning at 11 o'clock, the body being taken to Cornelia for interment.

B. F. Floyd. The funeral of B. F. Floyd, who died Monday morning at his residence, 102 North Butler street, was held at the chapel of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the interment being in Hollywood cemetery.

Z. N. Morris. The funeral services over the body of Z. N. Morris were held in the private chapel of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. Dr. Griner, of St. Luke's Methodist church, officiating. The interment was in Westview cemetery.

Mrs. Nettie Schlesinger. The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Nettie Schlesinger, who died Monday morning, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph C. Smith, 1000 South Pryor street, at 4 o'clock, and were attended by a large gathering of the friends of the family and of the synagogue, of which she was a member. The interment was in Oakland cemetery.

Charles Stephenson. The body of Charles Barclay Stephenson, the only son of Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Stephenson, of Raleigh, N. C., who died Monday night at Grady hospital, 15 years of age, was held today for interment. His father, Rev. R. G. Stephenson, was a member of the church of the Holy Trinity, and for many years was a city missionary here, and is now pastor of the largest Baptist church in the city. The time of his arrival here in response to a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his son, Mr. Stephenson was in ignorance of his death.

Lola Nolan. Lola, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Nolan, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, 25 Ashby street, after a three days' illness diagnosed as meningitis. The body will be taken to Newnan this morning at 10 o'clock for interment at the old family home.

George Hill. George Hill, a brakeman on the Seaboard Air Line, one of the trainmen who narrowly escaped injury in the recent wreck at Powder Springs, only to be seriously injured within a few hours in another occurring at Cedartown, died Monday night at Grady hospital, where he was undergoing treatment for paralysis of the lower limbs, superinduced by his hurt. Hill was married and lived with his sister, Mrs. Maggie Williams, at Boaz, Ala., but boarded when at this end of his run at 41 McDaniel street. His body was held at Grady hospital until last night, when word was received from his relatives and it was then removed to the undertaking establishment of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield, awaiting further instruction as to its disposition.

W. B. Watts, Sr., Cochran, Ga. Cochran, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—W. B. Watts, Sr., died at his home here this morning. While he has been unwell for quite a while, death was not expected, and was a shock to his family and the community. He was a large and successful farmer. He was a merchant with interests in Vienna and Macon, where he was a member of the firm of Mayer & Watts. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dollie Boothie Watts, Mrs. Harry Christy of Cincinnati, Mrs. M. E. Ginn of Athens and W. B. Watts, Jr. Mr. Watts was a brave confederate soldier.

Gen. John G. Moore, Washington. Washington, March 19.—Brigadier General John G. Moore, U. S. A., retired, former surgeon general of the army, died in Washington yesterday, aged 81 years. He was a colonel and medical director of volunteers in the civil war, and was brevetted lieutenant colonel regular establishment in 1866 for gallant and meritorious service during the Atlanta campaign.

SUPERINTENDENT E. E. TURNER, of the Fitzgerald public schools, arrived in the city yesterday and with Assistant Superintendent of Schools Landrum fitted several of the city schools. He will remain about a week looking into the local system of instruction, noting the various school buildings, arrangements, and, in general, gathering all the information that he can looking to the betterment of his schools.

A GOOD PRESCRIPTION.

To relieve a cough or break up a cold in twenty-four hours, the following simple formula, the ingredients of which can be obtained of any good prescription druggist at small cost, is all that will be required: Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), one-half ounce; Glycerine, two ounces; good whiskey, a half pint. Shake well and take in teaspoonfuls every four hours. The desired results can not be obtained unless the ingredients are pure. It is therefore better to reobtain pure ingredients and prepare the mixture yourself. Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased in the original half-ounce vials, which are guaranteed pure by dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, which protects the oil from exposure to light. Around the wooden case is an engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), guaranteed pure by the Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, serial number 451, prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, Ohio—plainly printed thereon. There are many imitations and cheap production of pine, but these only create nausea, and never effect the desired results.

NO TAFT BOOM WAS LAUNCHED

Roosevelt Denies the Story Based on Visit of Governor Deneen.

Washington, March 19.—Governor Deneen and Attorney General Stead did not come to see me on any political matters at all.

The above are substantially the words of the president used in his talk with Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, today when the latter asked him about the report that Saturday's conference at the white house with the Illinois officials was for the purpose of launching a boom for Secretary Taft for the presidency.

Senator Hansbrough was in New York at the time the story was published. He told the president when he saw him that he is a friend of the administration and thought he had a right to know if the reported publication was correct.

"You have a right to know, and I will tell you exactly what happened," the president replied, according to Senator Hansbrough.

"The senator and the attorney general did not come on any political matters at all," continued the president. "We did not talk politics at all. During the interview with the Illinois officials Secretary Taft, with his brother, happened to come over to the white house. There was no politics at all in their visit. No politics was talked afterwards. It was not a political gathering in any sense whatever."

From authoritative sources it was learned today that the visit of Governor Deneen and Attorney General Stead had to do with the Chicagoan Alton deal, which figured in the Harriman investigation. The president was anxious to learn what was being done about the deal, and state contemplated doing in the matter.

Secretary Taft tonight issued the following statement: "I had an appointment with the president at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and went to the white house to keep it. I found Governor Deneen and Attorney General Stead with the president and I was introduced to them. They left immediately. There was no political conversation of any kind."

Murdered Two Negro Women. Columbia, S. C., March 19.—Will Sanders, a negro, murdered two negro women in a remote section of Newberry county some time during the week. Sanders had been living with Aurelia Matthews, of whom he had been come jealous. Friday afternoon he asked the woman to go with him to look at some new ground he had selected for a garden. The woman, who was 15 years old, went with him, and he carried her off in another direction and shortly returned alone. The woman was choked to death.

Returning to the house shortly after dark Sanders retired. Getting up about daylight he carried down two other negro girls in the house to go with him. They refusing he locked them up in the house and has not been seen since.

HOMER REED, WHO WAS CONNECTED WITH THE Journal for about fifteen years, and now located in San Francisco, in the insurance business, is in the city greeting his old friends. He is registered at the Piedmont, and will be here for a couple of days.

Permanent results in cases of blood poisoning

BY E. H. Hathaway, M.D.

To the man or woman so unfortunate as to have contracted blood poisoning, I cannot urge too strongly the gravity of the situation and the great importance of at once consulting an honorable and capable specialist.

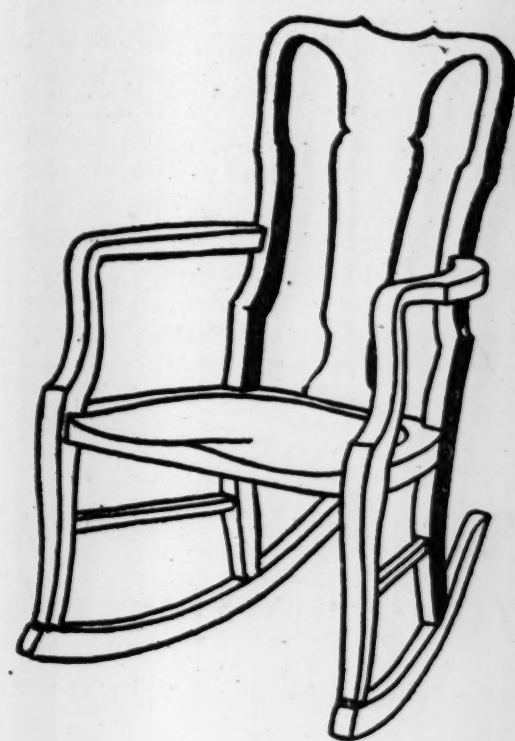

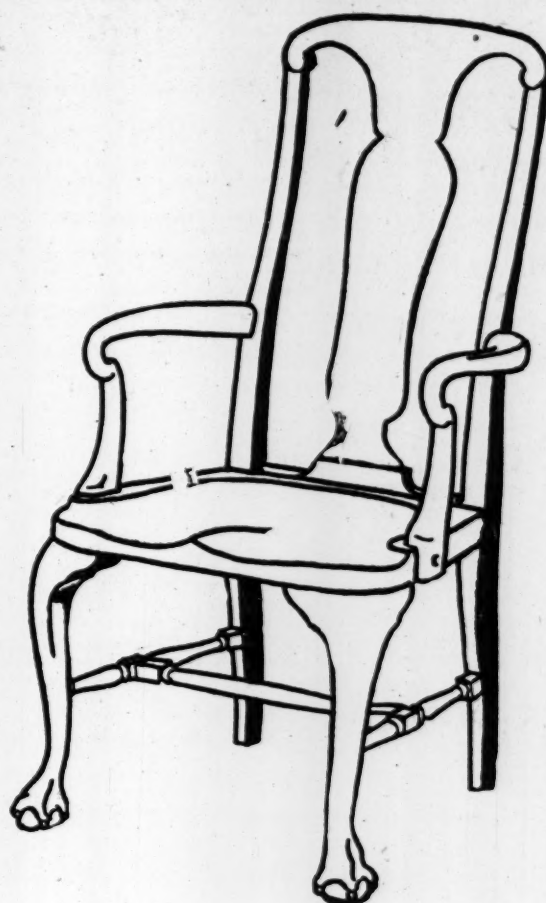

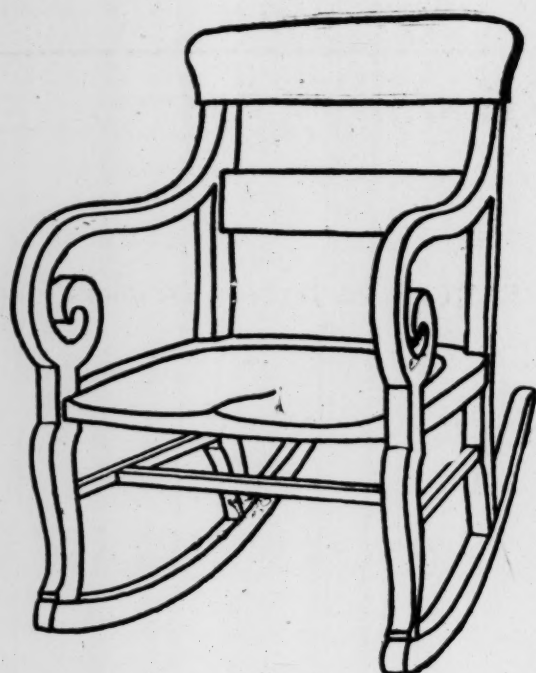

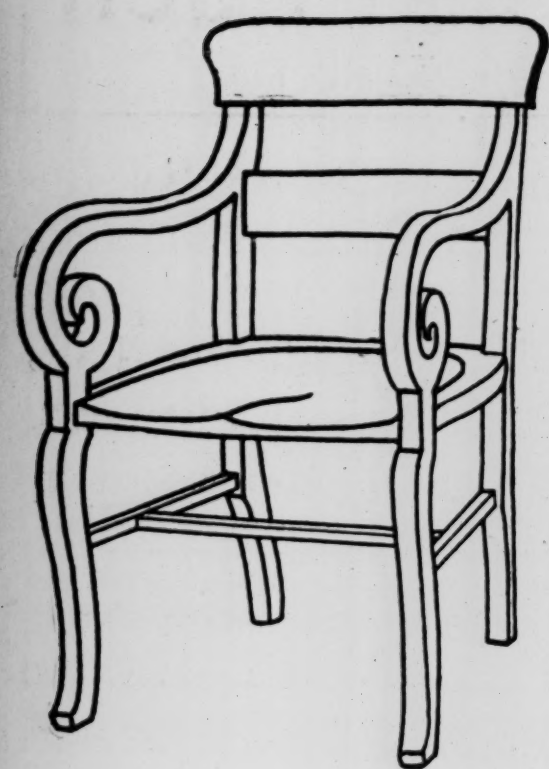

I emphasize honorable and capable for the reason that advertisements of "doctors" posing as experts in the treatment of such disorders, and of whom you would never be consulted by the intelligent, cautious patient.

If you desire honest advice and conscientious, thorough treatment, I invite you to call and investigate our record in other cases of this kind. No matter what your trouble is, be it with your Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Blood, Nerves, or any trouble peculiar to either sex, call or write us, and we will promptly tell you whether or not we can help you. We have six medical publications which we will send you upon request: 1. Brain and Nerve Exhaustion; 2. Book for Men; 3. Health; 4. Chronic Urthritis (Gleet); 5. Diseases of Women; 6. Health Essays Call on or address Dr. E. H. Hathaway, 22 1-2 South Broad St., Atlanta, Ga. Permanently located, nearly 15 years at above address.

AUDITORIUM COMMITTEE HOME AFTER LONG TOUR

MAJOR E. E. POMEROY, W. T. Gentry and Architect T. H. Morgan have returned to the city from a tour of inspection of auditoriums and armories and will meet this morning at 11 o'clock with the corporation which is behind Atlanta's auditorium-armory.

They visited several large cities and saw some of the finest armories and auditoriums in the country. They state that they secured very valuable information and data which they think will be of great benefit to the building committee.

Major Pomerooy gave the following interesting account of the trip:

"We were gone seven days, and of that time spent six nights on the road, which shows that we weren't losing any time."

"We first visited Chicago, where we saw the collection which seats 10,000 people and the First regiment armory, which is 200 feet square and complete in every detail."

Has Rotary Walls.

"We next visited St. Paul, where we found a unique auditorium building, which has rotary walls so that a portion of the building can be converted into a theater seating 5,000 people.

"At Minneapolis there is a new armory for a battalion, and it is perfectly arranged. Minneapolis has a fine auditorium with portable floors, so that the banked floors can be removed and a level floor remain for dances and other entertainments. There is a banquet hall, a kitchen, and everything to make up a most complete place for all kinds of entertainments."

"At Kansas City we saw the great convention hall that seats as many as 12,000 people. There is also an excellent armory for ten companies."

"St. Louis has an armory for a single company of seventy-five men that cost $300,000. This is the home of battery A, of the artillery troops."

A Big Drill Hall.

"Louisville has an armory that cost $450,000, and it was built by the county—Jefferson. The drill hall alone is 270x196 feet and it is flat without a post in it."

LIQUOR FIGHTS ALL OVER STATE

Sale of Intoxicants Still the Live Question in South Carolina.

"The liquor question is not a dead one in South Carolina by any means despite the abolishment of the state dispensary by the Carey-Cotnam law passed by the last legislature," said E. H. Aull of Newberry, member of the state legislature and president of the South Carolina Pross Association, who was in Atlanta yesterday. Mr. Aull was private secretary to Governor McEweney and is one of the most popular men in the Palmetto state.

"Though the state tank has been knocked out the twenty-five counties which had the dispensary still have the alternative of county dispensaries or prohibition and those which have prohibition can on the petition of a sufficient number of citizens hold an election at stated times as provided under the new law."

"When the dispensary was first put in only two of the forty-one counties of the state elected prohibition. Under the Price law passed four years ago, allowing the counties to vote out the state dispensary, fourteen have gone prohibition and now under the new law it is possible that in each of these counties a fight will be started for a county dispensary."

"In Charleston the situation is the same that it has always been, liquor being sold openly and proprietors paying fines in lieu of license. Whether or not Charleston will secede from the new law remains to be seen."

"With the interest in the liquor question as keen as it is in other states just now, particularly in Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi, it must not be thought that the Palmetto state has lost its accustomed interest in this question for with us it is just as alive as ever."

RUSH WORK ON NEW BRIDGE.

Temporary Brookwood Structure Half Completed—Permanent One Will Be Ready in 3 Months.

Contractor Fay, in charge of the construction of the new bridge on the Peachtree road across the Southern railway tracks at Brookwood, states that the temporary bridge is nearly half completed and that work on the permanent bridge will start in two or three days. A side track for bringing in material for the bridge has been completed and a considerable amount of this building material was unloaded yesterday.

While the specifications allow five months for the completion of this bridge, Contractor Fay states that unless unforeseen obstacles arise the new bridge will be completed within three months.

As has been reported, this bridge will be constructed of ferro concrete and will be the full width of Peachtree road. Under the new specifications the bridge will be so constructed as to permit of its being used by the very heaviest of suburban trolley cars as the new trolley line from Buckhead to Atlanta will run over this bridge on its way to Atlanta and by means of double tracks.

WAS BOUND OVER AS ACCOMPLICE

Andrew Wrye Charged As Accessory in Harrell Killing.

Eastman, Ga., March 19.—Andrew Wrye, who was held as an accomplice in the murder of W. P. Harrell by Mrs. Sallie Freney, was yesterday given a commitment trial. The result was that he was bound over without bond to the superior court to answer to the charge of being an accessory to the crime of murder in the second degree.

$740,000 Bridge to Open.

Shreveport, La., March 19.—(Special.)—The local officials of the company are preparing for an elaborate celebration on the occasion of the formal opening of the new Cotton Belt railroad bridge over Red river, between Shreveport and Bossier, now nearing completion at a cost of $750,000. Vice President and General Manager F. H. Easton, of St. Louis, who was here today, set the date for the dedication and formal opening of the structure for March 25. He said he would attend the ceremonies.

Played War, Death Followed.

Vienna, Ga., March 19.—While out hunting, the 10-year-old son of J. T. Murray, a prominent farmer, living about 3 miles south of Vienna, was shot to death by one of his companions, a negro boy, named Pleasant Kennedy. It seems that the boys had tired of hunting, and the negro suggested "playing war," and that he snatched the gun from young Murray and shot him. The account is given by another boy who was with the negro and young Murray, and also by the negro himself.

RIGHT OF SOLDIER TO TRIAL OF JURY

Case Appealed From Philippine Court to U. S. Supreme Court.

Homer Grafton, While on Duty in Philippines, Killed Two—Discharged by Courtmartial, But Later Taken Before Civil Authorities and Sentenced to 12 Years.

By John Corrigan.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—(Special.)—Whether or not a soldier of the United States government is entitled to the right granted every other citizen of this country, of a fair trial by a jury of his peers, is the problem involved in a case now pending in the supreme court of the United States, and on which argument has been heard the past two days.

It not only raises a question as to the hitherto conceded right of a soldier to the protection of the American flag, wherever he may be located, but it resolves, in a way, the whole Philippine question.

As an earnest of their interest in the case and the importance which they attach to it, soldiers in the Philippine islands and those stationed in many army posts throughout the country have contributed to a fund for the employment of private counsel to defend the case of the private. Ordinarily the department of justice would represent the war department in a case of this character brought forward by this branch of the government service, but since the appeal is from the supreme court of the Philippine islands, representing this government, to the supreme court of the United States, the department of justice has been forced to oppose the contention of the soldier and espouse the cause of the Philippine courts.

History of the Case.

Homer Grafton, the soldier who is now in the predicament that may at any time face a soldier of the regular army, occupies the analogous position of being subject to confinement if he does not do his duty, and to imprisonment and punishment by the civil courts if he does.

Grafton, who is a private in Company G, Twelfth Infantry, while on duty at Buenavista landing, Guimaras, shot Felix Villanova and Florentino Castro, as they attempted to "run" him. Castro, it is charged, was armed with a 10-inch bolo, and as he approached Grafton, was fired upon and killed. Villanova then attempted to escape, but the soldier reloaded and shot the latter fatally.

The soldier was tried by courtmartial, and exonerated, as it was claimed he shot in the performance of his duty as a soldier. Civil authorities declined to take up the case, until later when another civil justice came into office. At the latter's instance, Grafton was placed on trial, found guilty of assassination, and sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment. He appealed on the ground that he had been placed twice in jeopardy for the same offense. The supreme court of the Philippine islands sustained the lower court. Finally an appeal was taken to the supreme court of the United States, and argument before that body heard yesterday.

South Carolina Defends Soldier.

Captain Clarence S. Nettles, formerly an attorney of South Carolina, defended Grafton. Nettles enlisted in the Spanish-American war as a quartermaster sergeant in the South Carolina volunteers, and was afterwards appointed to the regular army as second lieutenant, being detailed to serve in the adjutant general's department, because of his legal skill. He ranks as a first lieutenant in his regiment, the Twenty-fifth infantry, and acted as judge advocate general of the courtmartial which tried Grafton.

The defense claimed that the civil courts had no jurisdiction, as the shooting occurred in a military reservation, and further argued that if the right of trial by jury did not extend to the Philippines, the accused should be given a fair trial in the United States. It was further claimed that the effect of sustaining the findings of the Philippine supreme court would be to deprive an American soldier of the hitherto unquestioned right of a trial by jury whenever he should be sent to his government to another country for service.

Solicitor General Hoyt argued the case for the Philippine government. Frank D. McKinney closed the case today.

The judgment of the supreme court in this instance is looked forward to with considerable interest, especially in army circles.

MISS ROCKEFELLER TO WED.

Hartley Dodge Wins Daughter of William G. Rockefeller.

New York, March 19.—The engagement of Miss Ethel Goodsell Rockefeller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rockefeller, to Marcus Hartley Dodge, grandson of the late Marcellus Hartley, is announced. Marcellus Hartley was a prominent financier and merchant. Mr. Dodge's father, Norman Dodge, died in 1902, and he became an heir to the large fortune which he left. He is practically the successor of his grandfather in business.

Miss Rockefeller made her debut about three years ago. Her friends say that she has no particular taste for society, but is fond of outdoor life and travel.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE HOSTS HIGHEST PRICE FOR CONVICTS MANY CHILDREN WERE CRUSHED

International Secretary Webb Was Principal Speaker of Meeting.

Alabama Gets $43 Per Month for Her Convicts.

When School Building Collapsed—Nine Killed Outright.

Macon, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—Baptist young people of the city of Macon were in attendance at the rally and reception given by the City Baptist Young People's Union at the First Baptist church this evening. Many college students from Mercer and members of the Baptist congregations of the city, both young and old, were present. International Secretary C. D. Webb, of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, was the principal speaker. State Secretary J. S. McLeary was also a speaker. Music and other features made the evening one of great interest to the young people. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening program.

Holloway Resists Writ.

Macon, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—Oscar Holloway, the young man who was was detained in Warrenton district yesterday on a writ of lunacy after he had caused a great deal of excitement, is now making strenuous efforts to get his release from Bibb county jail. Owing to the fact that he must remain ten days in jail before his trial, his friends have been much disappointed. He will probably show himself sane and in proper condition to be dismissed when he has opportunity to present his case to Ordinary Wiley.

Macon, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—Instead of showing up this morning to get a hearing on a charge of drunkenness at police court, Edward Andrews, leading musician for the Lyman Brothers' Theatrical Company, playing in Macon last night, left the city his full $10 which were put up for collateral. The man was said to have engaged too much drink before he took up his duties at the theater, and was in no condition for the performance. He tried to hide away the music, and was arrested in the midst of his plans.

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

BROUGHTON WANTS $200,000 FROM CITIZENS OF ATLANTA FOR HIS GREAT TABERNACLE

ADDITIONAL subscriptions to the Atlanta tabernacle, made on Tuesday amounting to about $11,000, has pushed the total so far given to Dr. Broughton's great undertaking to about $135,000. In a statement to the public, issued by Dr. Len G. Broughton, he states that he desires the city of Atlanta to give him not less than $200,000. The balance necessary to construct the tabernacle he will raise either by subscriptions outside of Atlanta or by borrowing the money needed.

He also announces that the use of the auditorium will be free to all religious gatherings which may come to the city. This announcement shows upon what a broad plan the scheme is pitched.

Dr. Broughton's statement follows:

Dr. Broughton's Statement.

"I wish to take this opportunity of expressing to my own people and the friends of our new tabernacle enterprise generally, my thanks for the way in which they have rallied. We have more than realized my expectations. Never have I doubted for a moment but that the movement for a great central religious auditorium and buildings housing our different philanthropic institutions would command the support of my own people and the public of Atlanta, but I was scarcely prepared for such a spontaneous exhibition of their willingness.

"The enterprise proposed is the result of many years of study and travel around the world. I have felt that it would be not only an enterprise in the way of good of our community in the way of supplying our needs, but that it would be worthy also of the spirit of our Atlanta people. I verily believe that as an advertising medium, Atlanta has failed nothing that will result in more good.

"We are now on the verge of our eighth annual conference, which begins on Thursday, night with the opening address by the world-famous evangelist, Cyprian Smith. We shall see from the beginning the great need of the auditorium. People are coming from all over the southern states, and many to the north, to attend this conference in order to hear Cyprian Smith and the other distinguished speakers who are to be here. Such meetings as these have been appreciated by the people of Atlanta, and they have been ever ready to support them. The new auditorium enterprise is a necessity for them, if nothing else.

"I have figured from the first that we would raise $200,000 in Atlanta. I am sure that the business people will respond to our call and help us carry the amount up to this point. Our own church has demonstrated its willingness to do so, and several thousand dollars have already been secured from our friends outside of Atlanta, and I know Atlanta well enough to believe that her business men will do their part when called upon.

"I want here and now to make this statement in behalf of my church. In soliciting funds from the general public, we want it distinctly understood that when our building is erected, the auditorium is for the free use of any religious denomination for their great religious gatherings. No charge whatever will be made for such gatherings. This is a part of the contract that we make with the public.

"Our people are, for the most part, busy, working people. What they give out of their earnings, but I have never known a people who have met their church obligations as strictly, as they do. I am sure that the community appreciates this fact.

"We would like to make a personal call upon every man and woman in the city for aid in this great public enterprise, but the fact that we are so busy prevents our doing it. It would be greatly appreciated, therefore, if the people generally, who are inclined to help us, would let me know by telephone or mail.

"The papers of the city have been exceptionally kind, and we can never express our deep appreciation of what they have done, and their kindness is continuous. They agree to publish the list of subscribers from time to time to this fund, and we rely on this, because we wish the community to know every dollar that is subscribed to our work, and then we propose to show regular statements through the press of the expenditures. We want to have no secret about this matter, because there are so many people interested in it.

"Again thanking everybody for what they have done, and soliciting all the aid

HEALTHY CHILDREN
Made so by the Right Kind of Food.

A family doctor was shocked when he found a mother had fed a three weeks old baby on Grape-Nuts. But let her tell it her own way:

"When my second baby was three weeks old it became necessary to feed it by means of a bottle. At first we used cow's milk, but it did not agree with the baby at all, although we tried a number of different formulas.

"We afterwards went from one food to another without finding any that would agree. The child was not only weak and thin, but would cry pitifully almost the whole day.

"One day when giving my eldest child a dish of Grape-Nuts I thought I would see if the baby would take some.

"I prepared it by pouring hot milk over it and allowing it to cool. The child ate all I had prepared and went to sleep looking more satisfied than it had ever done before.

"I told one physician about it and he was horrified—said a child so young could digest only milk; that I must not do it again.

"So back we went on the bottle. Some weeks the child would gain an ounce, other weeks there would be no gain, twice she lost weight.

"Finally, without letting anyone know it, I began giving her a little Grape-Nut at bed time. I noticed she would sleep longer, then I added a breakfast of Grape-Nuts to her diet.

"It was not long before everyone remarked how much better the baby was getting. I knew the Grape-Nuts was agreeing with her for she was steadily increasing in weight and her color became better.

"Now she is 15 months old, weighs 27 lbs. and still has two meals a day of Grape-Nuts. My oldest child, now five years old, weighs 48 lbs. When a baby she would not take any of the soft cereals but took to Grape-Nuts at once. I encourage the use of it with the children because it does them good, and because it is so convenient—always ready.

WILL GIVE ALL GLASS.

ONE firm will give the glass necessary for the entire Atlanta Tabernacle. Dr. Broughton in his rounds yesterday went in to see P. J. Cogle, of P. J. Cogle & Co., asking him for a donation in cash. Mr. Cogle received Dr. Broughton cordially and said that he had already made up his mind what he intended to give him. "I will supply free," he said, "all the glass for the entire building. That will be my donation." Dr. Broughton said, "Why, man, do you know what you are doing?" "Yes," said Mr. Cogle, "it is not over eight stories I will furnish all the glass." It is estimated that this will save the tabernacle people about $5,000.

possible that we may carry our fund to the $200,000 mark. I am fraternally yours, LEN G. BROUGHTON.

Dr. Matheson's Letter.

Dr. Broughton has received a letter from Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of the Technological school, which he appreciates very much. It is as follows: "President's Office, Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta, Ga., March 19, 1907.—Dr. Len G. Broughton, 15 West Simpson Street, Atlanta, Ga.—My Dear Doctor: I duly received your kind favor of the 16th, inviting me to attend your Sunday afternoon meeting at the Grand opera house, and also to occupy a seat on the platform. I regret very much that a previous engagement prevented my acceptance of your invitation.

"I agree with Mr. Hugh Inman, that Atlanta owes you and itself the great new tabernacle which you are projecting, and I am thoroughly in accord with you in the undertaking. For years I have realized the great work you are doing for the city and community, and I am truly glad to see that you are coming into the building.

"Nothing succeeds like success," and I confidently believe and hope that your 'dark days' are over, and that only sunshine now awaits you. With best wishes, fraternally yours,

"H. G. MATHESON.

"The Yankee Consul."

"The Yankee Consul," that delightful musical satire which has proven the most successful of modern day comic opera offerings will be the attraction at the Grand Friday and Saturday and Saturday matinee.

"The Consul" is acknowledged to be the peer of most so-called comic operas. Henry M. Blozson, Jr., who wrote the libretto, has contributed brilliant dialogue and the story is an intensely interesting one.

"Feed the Brute."

In the sparkling comedy, "The Marriage of Kitty," which will be seen at the Grand next Monday matinee and night, there is another exemplification of the old story told on the Englishman who married an American lady and who asked his sister how she could best retain the affection of her newly wedded lord. The answer was short and to the point. The sister's reply was, "Feed the brute."

Mme. Marcia Sembrich.

Mme. Marcia Sembrich, the famous prima donna, who is to be heard here April 5, is a Slav to her finger tips.

"We are extremists, you know, we Slavs," said the prima donna recently to an interviewer who had called at her apartments in the Hotel Savoy in New York. "In youth we are by nature inclined to gaiety. But, after a few years have passed, we lean equally to the melancholy. And our temperament is expressed in the music of our compositions, above all, in Chopin. It is heard in our folk songs."

THE CHRONICLE GUTTERED BY FIRE

Plant of Augusta's Morning Paper Badly Wrecked.

Western Union Office Was Also Destroyed—The Fire Broke Out as the Paper Was Going to Press—Loss Between $75,000 and $100,000.

Augusta, Ga., March 19.—At 3:10 this morning fire broke out in the building occupied by The Augusta Chronicle and the Western Union Telegraph Company. The office of The Augusta Chronicle was ruined and the main office of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Union City ticket office were destroyed. Eight Linotype machines in The Chronicle office were wrecked and the presses of the paper badly damaged. The losses are estimated at $75,000 to $100,000, with partial insurance.

The fire started in The Chronicle job office, owned by Murphy & Billings, in the rear of The Chronicle building. The fire was under control at 8 o'clock.

The Chronicle was established in 1785, and is the oldest newspaper in the south. The Chronicle Publishing Company carried an insurance of $30,000 on the building and $35,000 on the plant.

Murphy & Billings of The Chronicle job office, carry an insurance of about $17,500.

Will Still Issue Daily.

Tonight T. W. Loyless, editor and business manager of The Chronicle, stated that, while the plant is practically destroyed and the building will not be ready for occupancy for some months, The Chronicle will be published daily as heretofore.

Until further arrangements can be made, the plants of The Augusta Herald and The Tribune will be used by The Chronicle. The presses of the former destroyed printing. Losses are fully covered by insurance, and the amount of damage cannot be ascertained until an inventory is taken. The Chronicle appeared this morning several hours after the fire, which destroyed every line of type set, all copy and matrices, in four-page form, carrying a story of the fire and a page of local news. This was made possible through the courtesy of The Herald. Mr. Loyless desires to thank his newspaper friends throughout the state for their offers of sympathy and aid.

LOST ENERGY

Daily Death Rate of Human Body
Appalling. Man Must Fight
Wisely to Live.

The human body is the most wasteful machine known. The workman wastes each day 5 per cent of his weight.

The growing boy loses even a larger amount in proportion.

This loss must be made good in food. Wheat and barley alone contain all of the elements necessary to the normal constitution. Muscle, heat, brain and nerve powers are found in the grain of wheat, in the exact proportion required for a robust body. Any variance from this diet means wasted energy.

Too many people nowadays eat too much sugar and starch, which overheat the system, impoverish the blood and cause inflammation, headache, fever and neuralgia. The same poor judgment is shown in the use of meats, which are hard to digest and produce erratic nerves.

The natural food is Hardfoed—made of selected grains combined in such proportions as will properly nourish the whole system.

Hardfoed builds bone and muscle, tempers the body, feeds the brain and settles and strengthens the nerves. Hardfoed is good for the laborer and the man at the desk. It builds up the tissues of the young and restores them to the old.

Every package of Hardfoed is a bundle of energy, with five times the power of beef.

Read what this Iowa City, Ia., lady writes: "At the recent packing house disclosures which filled the papers a few months ago, I confess I was willing enough for my children's sake to leave meat alone, if possible, and seek a substitute. I had heard of Hardfoed, in fact, and I was so glad to find it recommended to me by a highly, and I therefore went to my grocer for a trial package."

"The first time I tried it, I found it so good, and seemed not to notice the absence of their usual steak. I let them eat all they wanted, baby and all, as they seemed to thrive on it. Every morning I served it in a different way so they would not tire of it, but this was really unnecessary, for they would munch it dry then as when it was served with gravy. I feel that I owe it to you to tell how grateful I am for what Hardfoed has done for my children. Every one of them looks stronger than ever before, feels better and sleeps more soundly."

"We will not go back on Hardfoed, no matter what renovating the packing houses may experience."

"Very sincerely,

"Isn't it worth a dime to find out what Hardfoed can do for you? Try a package at your grocer's. 10 cents."

A PEDIGREED BULLDOG PUP, belonging to Walter Chandler of Langford & Chandler, the Hunter street marketmen, was killed yesterday afternoon by a street car.

THE FAMILY OF COLONEL L. F. Livingston, who has been detained in Washington since the adjournment of congress, has received word that he will be home about the first of April.

L. S. M'ULLOUGH, OF ATLANTA, a clerk, yesterday filed with the clerk of the United States court a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. The petitioner gave his liabilities at $900, and declared that he had no assets.

THREE DIMINUTIVE NEGRO LADS, Will McDaniel, Andy Green and Sam O'Neil, were arraigned before Judge Broyles, in police court, yesterday morning charged with highway robbery, their victim being a copper-colored boy of their own age about the prisoners were given 30 days each in the stockade, and were held to the state courts for larceny from the person.

MRS. HILL, WIFE OF HON. C. D. Hill, solicitor general of the Fulton superior court, has been quite ill at the family home, 644 Piedmont avenue, for some weeks past. Mrs. Hill has been having a hard struggle with an aggravated case of grip, but she is now improving slightly.

A VOLUNTARY PETITION IN bankruptcy was lodged with Deputy Clerk Beers, of the United States court, yesterday by M. C. Roberts, of Gainesville. In the papers on file it is set out that the petitioner, a jeweler, has liabilities of $4,845.13, and assets of $4,275. J. O. Adams was named receiver.

JUDGE JOHN T. PENDLETON yesterday afternoon signed an injunction to keep Mrs. Lizzie Reynolds from selling a part of land lot No. 44, in the fourteenth district of Fulton county. The suit for injunction was brought by Charles Reynolds through his next friend, R. F. Reynolds.

IN JUDGE ORR'S COURT YESTERDAY, J. C. Harrington, a young white man, a switchman on the Central railroad, was bound over for larceny, under $250. He was charged with having taken shoes from a loaded box car of the Central. The defendant gave bond.

AT A LATE HOUR LAST NIGHT at the Greek soda fountain at the corner of Whitehall and eighth streets, an attempt was made to burglarize by unknown parties. No booty was secured, however, as the thieves were frightened by pedestrians.

OPTICALLY PERFECT.

That's the way we turn out every pair of glasses. When we fit you with glasses you can rest assured that there is nothing on the market more up to date in the way of frames, mountings, new styles lenses, etc. When it comes to eye-glass adjusting—fitting them to the nose, we pride ourselves on our skill. The prescribing of the proper lenses, then the correct adjusting of eye-glasses and spectacle frames are the two all-important things, and it is our judgment and skill in these two respects, that has made us the "representative retail optician" of the south. Let us make an examination of your eyes today; that is all that is necessary to give you confidence in us. K. H. Hawkes & Co. opticians, 14 Whitehall street, and 123 Peachtree street.

WAR FOR LOOT IS BEING WAGED BY NICARAGUA

Proclamation Offering Leaders Booty of Honduran and Salvadoran Cities.

AMERICANS ALARMED BY THE PROCLAMATION

And Are Arming to Defend Themselves—Worst Feature of Former Looting Has Been the Indignities Offered to Women and Prisoners.

Via New Orleans, March 19.—A turn of minister and widespread significance
was given to the Central American war today by the finding on the persons of captured Nicaraguan soldiers proclamations promising them the loot of the first cities which they can capture in both Honduras and Salvador.

This proclamation at once amounted to a practical declaration of war by Nicaragua against Salvador; it showed that the Nicaraguans' common soldiers are at least being sent to fight what they believe a war of vengeance; and it placed Americans in Puerto Cortez and throughout this republic on the anxious seat because of the fact that American residents or American capital
form the principal property holders
of most of the Honduran cities, especially those which are richest, and therefore most liable to loot in case of success of the Nicaraguan arms.

Completeness of the Loot.

Any doubt as to the completeness of such a loot is dispelled not only by the wording of the proclamation, but by the experiences had in 1894 by some of the persons now living in Puerto Cortez, who were present at the loot-ing of Cholotepe, Honduras. Nicaraguan soldiers, aided by about 200 of their women, pillaged every house but one in the town.

The worst feature of the looting of Cholotepe, which the proclamation recalls, was the horrible indignities offered both to women and to helpless persons. About 250 ammunition carts were used at Cholotepe to carry away
the loot.

The proclamation says:
"The reward for our valor will be found as soon as we put our feet on the enemy's soil, and in order that those opposed to us may repent their temerity
in attacking the United States, we offer
as booty the first cities, both of Honduras and of Salvador, that fall into our power."

The grounds for this sacking of cities
is stated as follows:
"The hour has arrived in which our glorious flag will go to exact reparation for the opprobrious injuries to our countrymen in the towns of Los Culpables and Carrazal. Our comrades were villainously assassinated by minions of the despot of Honduras."

Vengeance is to be visited upon Salvador because of the attack upon the town of Leon by General Malespino, of Salvador, when, it is claimed, he "violated Nicaraguan homes, burned property and committed every class of robery."

Americans Are Arming.
The proclamation is ambiguous in parts, first indicating that only one
city is to be sacked in each country,
and later on apparently giving permission to loot more than one. It is in the form of a "national bulletin" and bears the date line, "San Pedro, Sula, March 12."

Americans in Puerto Cortez, in view of this proclamation, are preparing to defend themselves if necessary. Some of them complain because the United States has not sent naval protection
here. Although measures for self-defense have been taken by many Americans, it is not true, as has been reported, that they have been impressed into the service of Honduras or that they hostilities. They and other foreigners are keeping aloof from the trouble.

According to reports received, a part of the Salvadoran army is by this time fighting with Honduras. A recent telegram says that seven boat loads of disarmed Nicaraguan troops surrendered to Salvadoran authorities and were concentrated in the interior of Salvador.

Telegraph Wires Down.
For several days telegraphic communication has been interrupted with Truxtillo, Honduras, at which port President Bonilla has ordered 3,000 land forces to concentrate with the Honduran naval forces. A report arrived here today
by steamer that the Honduran submarine Tumbia, in reconnoitering, had approached near enough to Truxtillo to see a large fire there, but now is asserted that the Nicaraguans
had landed near Truxtillo.

The Tumbia is supported by the Mexican steamer Olympia, which is under charter, and is picking up armed men while en route along the coast
for Truxtillo. Three Americans, each in command of one cannon, are aboard
the Olympia, one of them the United States navies member of the United States navy, and there is much speculation here as to whether the Olympia will fight if approached by Nicaraguan gunboats, as the Olympia is supposed to fly the Mexican flag.

Nicaragua in Vengeful Mood.
Via New Orleans, March 19.—Proclamations found on the soldiers of Nicaragua captured near the frontier by the troops
of Honduras read as follows:
"Vengeance for soldiers assassinated by the despot of Honduras."
"We will plant our flag in Tegucigalpa and in Salvador and punish the criminals and their allies."
"Troops, be rewarded by looting the

THE PASSING THROG

By E. C. Bruffey.

HON. D. C. HEYWARD, ex-governor of South Carolina, is in the city,
and has apartments at the Piedmont, where he will remain a day or
two. During yesterday the ex-governor, who is now president of the Southern Immigration and Industrial Association, called at the state house and held a long conference with Governor Terrell, immigration being the subject of discussion between the two. In the morning Governor Heyward was joined at the Government by J. R. McMillen, of Gadsden, Ala., secretary of the same body. The Carolina ex-governor is an enthusiast
upon the immigration question, and declared that it was the only logical solution of the so-called race problem.

"Immigrants brought south," said he at the Piedmont, "will soon migrate to the home whites in a manner that the negro can never do. Being of a superior race, both intellectually and in energy,
they will soon assert themselves in a manner that will be productive of better conditions generally. The shiftlessness of the negro race is well known, and many places in the south depend upon the white race in the south is dependent upon him.
The presence of the white immigrants will settle that question finally, and to the detriment of the negro. The negro, too, is a great imitator, and after he has been convinced that the south is not dependent upon him, the same negro will attempt to imitate the thrifty immigrant and thereby become a better workman."

"So far, of the 800 who have been brought over," continued Governor Heyward, "every one has been select white labor. Only a few of these have remained in South Carolina, the majority having gone to other southern states, where they went at once to work. Now, Charleston doesn't want all the glory there is attached to this movement, neither does South Carolina want all who are brought over. But, at present, South Carolina is about the only southern state
that has an immigrant port recognized by the national government. It was the first state in the south to have a state department of immigration, and the federal government, recognizing that fact, has appropriated $70,000 to be used at the port of Charleston. Just as soon as Georgia has a law of the same nature, then Georgia ports will be recognized by Commissioner Straus just as Charleston has been. But in the meantime it is to be hoped that the other southern states which have not had the progress in the immigration line that Charleston has had will give us their full and hearty support. Any state in the south is just as welcome and just as much entitled to the immigrants who come through Charleston as is Carolina."

"Now, since Carolina has been at work," went on Governor Heyward,
"North Carolina and Alabama have had state immigration laws put through their legislative bodies, and may soon have immigrant ports recognized. What we want is for the south Atlantic states,
until they are ready to act independently,
to give South Carolina their hearty help.
This immigration question is one in which there must be a unity of purpose and action. The minute one section begins antagonizing another, then harm will have been done."

"Charleston has a tentative line to Bremen, and agents of the society are over there now at work. The vessel of the North German line that brings the immigrants over must have a cargo back.
Now, we want every state benefited by the immigration to send to the Charleston port a part of that cargo. That need not hurt the trade of any port of the other states. On the contrary, it would become an incentive of the port towns of the state to work the harder for a

$100,000 ORDER CAN BE ACCEPTED ON 160 COUNTS

Dispensary Attorney Gives
S. C. Commission
This Advice.

Columbia, S. C., March 19.—The attorney for the dispensary commission, the body of five men who were appointed by Governor Ansel to wind up the affairs of the state dispensary under the terms of the Carey-Cotnam liquor law, advised that body today that it had a legal right to accept the now famous $100,000 order from the Clarke Distilling company of Peoria, Ill. Whether the commission (which is very anxious to get out of the liquor business) will avail itself of this large order of liquor
has not yet been determined.

Several days ago the Peoria concern
made an offer to the commission to buy out the whole business, provided they
be allowed to establish a bottling plant and continue the business of serving the various county dispensaries. This proposition being one that could not be considered, as the state has already been legislated out of the liquor business, it is said that the Peoria concern made another effort to purchase the entire stock and pay cash for same at invoice prices. Why this particular firm is so anxious to buy this particular stock of liquor, most of which is said
to be not of the best grades, is another matter that has not yet been explained.

Governor Little, of Arkansas, Ill.

San Antonio, Tex., March 19.—It is reported from Corpus Christi, Tex., that Governor Little, of Arkansas, is a very sick man. The governor went there several weeks ago and entered a sanitarium in an effort to regain his health. The attending physicians decline to make a statement as to the condition of Governor Little, but it is generally understood that he is very seriously ill.

Mrs. Wallan Not Invoiced.
New York, March 19.—No indictment against Mrs. Lettie Wallan, who was charged with having caused the death of her mother, Mrs. Julia Binge, was found by the grand jury which reported today.
As the jury in its investigation of Mrs.
Binge's death did not consider the evidence sufficient upon which to base an indictment it is regarded as probable that the charge against Mrs. Wallan will be dropped.

state immigration law, so that the vessels going back could load at that state

Carolina is ready to aid any state in any way it can to handle its own immigration."

Governor Heyward will leave for Bremen himself on the 2d of next month,
and once on the other side, he will give his personal time and attention to the work.

D. CALLAWAY'S familiar face will be seen again today in his old place behind the Kimball counter. That Ed will be given a glad hand by his many friends who have missed him since he severed his connection with the hotel is an assured fact.

E. B. T. WILLIAMS, the well-known Atlanta attorney, is just in receipt of a letter from M. Stern, supreme president of the National Order of Beavers, informing him that he has been named a member of the ritual committee and suggesting that he get busy and cooperate with the other members of the committee at once. The ritual committee is composed of Y. Seoka, chairman of Mobile Dam 26, G. W. Tompkins of Mobile
Dam 26, Ed T. Williams of Atlanta, Dam 2, C. L. Torbett of Columbus
Dam 19, and J. C. Cowert of Memphis Dam 11. The ritual committee will meet in Memphis some time during the present month and will get to work at once on the ritual.

Ed Williams is one of the prominent and leading members of the Atlanta dam and is known by the membership of the order generally.

CAPTAIN RICHARD HARRIS,
his old Atlanta friends yet
know him as genial, jovial Dick Harris, is in the city from New York, where he is now making his home and is a guest at the Kimball.
Few men in Georgia are better known than Dick Harris and fewer still have more friends. For years he was a passenger conductor on the Southern railroad and was known by every one between Atlanta and Brunswick—his run.
"I was in Knoxville the day of the election," said Captain Harris yesterday at the Kimball, "and I never saw anything like it. I am inclined to believe that the town might have gone
wet but for the women of the city.
They were all out so it seemed and the way they did work was a caution.
I never saw anything like it in my life.
The society women were there. So was the sister, the daughter, was at work.
Why a man would approach the girls with his ticket made out. Some of the good women would find whether or not it was for or against liquor. If it was for liquor they would manage to get hold of it, destroy it in front of the voter's face and give him the dry ticket. And they would see, too, that he voted that ticket. It was the most remarkable election day I ever saw."

J. R. McMULLEN of Gadsden, Ala., secretary-treasurer of the Southern Immigration and Industrial Association, was in Atlanta, yesterday, conferring with ex-Governor Heyward, president of that association.

HE IS INDICTED ON 160 COUNTS

John R. Walsh Must Meet a Great Number of Charges.

Chicago, March 19.—Judge Anderson,
in the federal court, today decided that John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, should appear before him April 3 and enter his plea to the 160 counts of the indictment charging him with misapplication of the funds of a national bank. The decision was announced after attorneys had argued nearly two hours in support of their contention that the government be required to furnish the defendant with a bill of particulars before he be required to plead to the charge against him. The form of the request for the bill of particulars
is to be changed by counsel for the former bank president and presented to Judge Anderson before April 3 or on the date the plea is made by the defendant.

DR. BICKNELL YOUNG COMING

Noted Lecturer of Christian Science Church Will Lecture Here at the Grand on Thursday.
Dr. Bicknell Young, a member of the board of lecturership of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, will deliver a lecture on Christian Science at the Grand Thursday night at 8 o'clock.
The lecture will be given under the ausices of the local church, and admission will be free.

Dr. Young is one of the most noted lecturers of the country, and as the subject is one of interest, a large attendance is expected.

IN NIGHT ROBES RUNS AWAY.

Little John Stephen Lewis Is Mis-sling from His Home, 465 Woodward Avenue.
Clad in his night robes, little John
Stephen Lewis ran away from his home, 465 Woodward avenue, at 8:30 o'clock
yesterday evening, and has not been seen since. The matter was reported to the police authorities.
At dusk Mrs. Stephens discovered her son in the act of carrying his clothing
underneath the house, and requested him to bring them into a room. He brought the clothing back, and went out again to procure some minor article, failing to return.

AND THE ROADS FALL DOWN AGAIN

Cannot Handle Necessary
Freight at Athens.

One Road Lays It on the Other—The Question Has Been Carried To the Georgia Railroad Commission.

Athens, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)— Athens is in the grip of a freight blockade that threatens to very seriously cri-
ple numbers of business men here.

The railroads fail to fix the responsibility for this blockade, each road shifting the blame to the other. It appears that the Southern is less blocked than any of the other roads, and that road
claims to be able to handle all freight given it.

There are at present several hundred loaded cars in the city limits that have been standing on the tracks for days.
They contain for the most part goods
consigned to Athens merchants, goods that the merchants are sadly in need of just now to run their orders. The roads seem utterly powerless to relieve the congested condition.

The Empire State Chemical Company,
whose plant is located on the Georgia railroad just outside the city limits, has made complaint to the railroad commission of the state against the Georgia railroad, the Central of Georgia, the Seaboard Air Line and the Gainesville Midland. The Georgia is alleged to be negligent in not moving the cars from the plant; the Central is accused by the Georgia with not being willing to accept the cars in their yards, and the Central says it cannot take the cars because the Seaboard and the Gainesville Midland
will not take them promptly.

This company states in its complaint
to the railroad commission that eleven cars of fertilizers have been standing loaded on the track in the yards of the fertilizer plant for the past seven days
and that twenty-one additional cars are now there ready for removal and that no amount of persuasion can get them out to their destination. The commission is asked to require an accounting for this delay on the part of the roads.

This is simply one case in point. There are numerous others. In fact, the business of Athens has grown to such an enormous extent that the railroads entering here are not really in shape to handle the business, and will have to make many improvements and additions to the service before being able to satisfy the demands of the business of the city.

It is expected that other firms will take up this fight and insist on the railroads clearing up this freight blockade in some way.

Mother and Son Burned.
New York, March 19.—Mrs. Annie Hoy, 64 years old, was burned to death,
and her son, Thomas, aged 36, was so severely burned that he probably will die, when a lamp exploded in their home
in Jersey City today. Both Mrs. Hoy
and her son were asleep and the blazing oil spread the fire so quickly that they were overcome.

Road Operators Meet.
Social Circle, Ga., March 19.—The Georgia railroad operators held a secret meeting here today. The object of the meeting is unknown, but it is expected that they will ask for a raise in salaries and possibly other demands will be made.

There are many people who can see nothing good in a doughnut except the hole. For them there is nothing in this world but calamity. Their greatest trouble is to have to eat three times a day. The stomach is in rebellion, and this is immediately shown in a man's face. A man who is healthy and whose stomach inside. The world already has too many dyspepsia faces that breathe disaster and gloom.

Stomach trouble is the most common cause of discontent, sour face, recklessness, disgust and lack of ambition. A bad stomach—there is the secret of many failures. Anyone can have a good stomach, a strong stomach, a stomach
that can take care of anything and everything that is put into it, no matter
whether it is a very bad stomach or not.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. One ingredient of these little tablets digests 3,000 grains of food, and no matter how bad your dyspepsia or indigestion, they will digest everything in your stomach, thoroughly and completely, and better and more quickly than a good strong healthy stomach can do it.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will quickly
cure loss of appetite, flatulency, irritation, burning sensations, nausea, heartburn, eructations, loss of vim and energy, bad memory, and dyspepsia and indigestion
in their very worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets around with you wherever you go and take them after meals. Then only you will realize what it is to enjoy a meal and what perfect digestion means. Your whole body and your mind will feel the effects. Your vim will increase, you will be more satisfied with what the world does, you will think happier and be happier and your face
will be one of supreme contentment.
That will bring you success and then more success. Your face will bring you dollars. Try it. You will cost you just ALABAMA GETS READY FOR SHOW Commissioners All Now Named For Jamestown Exposition.

Rhodes, Malone, Hobbs and Taylor, and Comer Will Look After Exhibit—Outlook Good for a Magnificent Display.

Montgomery, Ala., March 19.—(Special.) Governor Comer today appointed the commission to represent the state in getting up an exhibit for the Jamestown exposition, thereby making the last step in the way of securing space for the state at what now promises to be one of the greatest shows ever given in the south. The governor is ex-officio chairman, and he has selected the following to serve with him: Rufus N. Rhodes, Birmingham; George H. Malone, Dothan;
T. M. Hobbs, Athens, and W. H. Taylor, Uniontown.

This board carries no pay, the members serving for the honor and from a standpoint of patriotism. The governor is at the head of it. The $25,000 appropriated for the exposition by the legislature will be used entirely for getting up an exhibit. To gather this exhibit Governor Comer said he would select men able and well fitted to get the very best. He hopes to secure the services of a corps of workmen who will make the very best showing for the state and to that end he is not looking for some who knows much about such things.

Rhodes is editor of The Birmingham News, one of the progressive papers of the state, and one of the few dailies of the state to support Mr. Comer from the beginning practically of his political life.
Mr. Malone is a banker and business man who has been one of the leaders in the freight rate reform ideas of the present administration. The same thing may be said of Mr. Hobbs, a business man, banker and farmer. Mr. Taylor is a lawyer and has for some years been much interested in the experimental farms of the state in his county. He is probably the best posted man in the lot on farm products and what will be good showing for the state in that way.

It is expected that the state will make a great showing at Jamestown. The industrial section has been working up for quite a while, and there will be many private contributions to aid that of the state. In the farming sections
the effort will be even more enthusiastic, for the reason that Alabama has made better progress than many of her sister states in the past ten years in the matter of progressive farming, including stock raising and dairying. Montgomery has become one of the largest mule markets in the south.

Don't Let Talk Take the Place of Test

Don't let anyone's prejudice or selfish opposition convince you that any of the "Triangle A" brands are not better than any other cigars sold at the same price.

That's no way to judge.
You can test it for yourself, and you are the only one who knows when the cigar suits you.

Smoke any "Triangle A" brand and compare it fairly
with any other cigar sold at the same price.

We are willing to stake the success of our whole business
on public opinion founded on this test.

The experience which has been combined in producing the American Cigar Company's cigars was acquired from the operation of nearly 100 of the most famous and successful factories in Cuba and the United States. And processes of proper refining and scientific blending mean much to every smoker.

You can bank on the "Triangle A" sign every time. No more raw, green, bitter tobacco in your cigars!

Is that worth the trouble?
The "Triangle A" is the mark that protects you.

The New CREMO 5 cents

Every box is now extra-wrapped in glassine paper, sealed at each end with the "Triangle A" in red. The cigars are kept clean, fresh and in perfect smoking condition until the box is opened.

Government Clerk Sent To Pen.
Washington, March 19.—A sentence of one year and one day in the penitentiary was today imposed by Justice Barnard upon James W. Boyd, formerly disbarred clerk of the public health and marine hospital service, who was indicted upon a charge of having obtained about $1,200 from the government by means

C. HUNTER, A WHITE MAN, EMployed at the Atlanta Gas works, was last night attacked by a negro, J. A.
Thomason, who is employed at the same place, and a deep gash cut in his head.
The injury being, however, not of a serious nature, Hunter was at work and directed the negro to do a certain piece of work in the shop. This seemed to en-rage Thomason, and the cutting followed.

PRESIDENT FINLEY'S ADDRESS

There is no difficulty about agreeing, in the main, with the substance of what President W. W. Finley, of the Southern railway, said of the relations between the railroads and the people in his address last night before the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. It is with what President Finley implied, or, in some instances, with what he did not say, that there is cause of disagreement.

What we had most hoped for was that President Finley would take the people into his confidence and tell them why certain things are as they are, and what it was proposed to do to remedy them in the interests of a better public service. It is to be regretted that, instead of doing this, President Finley followed the line which he has pursued in other recent addresses, dealing rather in abstractions than in concrete instances. We can accept as well founded practically every one of these widely general statements which Mr. Finley makes, and still that would not bring us as near together as would one concrete and individualized proposition upon which, after calm discussion, we might harmonize all differences.

President Finley pleads for consideration for the railroads on the part of the people; we are pleading for consideration for the people on the part of the railroads. That there are important concessions which the situation demands that the railroads shall make to the people cannot be gainsaid. Mr. Harriman, just now the foremost of all railroad combiners and financiers, admits this when he says that responsibility for the conditions which confront the railroads in their relations to the people is upon the railroads themselves. We had hoped to hear President Finley go somewhat into this view of the matter.

President Finley says that the railways must "cultivate the good will and cooperation of the public by the adoption and promulgation of economically and commercially sound principles in the conduct of their business," and that the pressing need of the south today "is for better and more extensive transportation facilities." Interesting generalities and sound ones, too. But could he not have gotten closer to the people by dealing with the concrete fact, for instance, of the widespread shortage of transportation facilities, the admission that the railroads are themselves largely responsible for this condition, and a statement of what the railroads propose to do, and do at once, for the adequate relief of this situation? Here is a condition which is attributable largely to the diversion of income to pay dividends on many stocks and bonds which, representing no actual investment, come under the classification, "watered." The responsibility is, therefore, traceable rather to the railroad financier than to the railroad operator, and yet the railroad itself and its management must bear it.

Again, we can readily agree that "the imperative need of the south today is improved transportation service." But why, we ask, have we not a transportation service somewhere near commensurate with our needs? Would it not have been somewhat nearer to that standard if the railroads had devoted their energies in the past as much to improving their facilities as they have to defeating competition? Can railroad managements truthfully deny that such has been the direction those energies have taken?

But we come to a still more interesting feature of President Finley's argument in his assertion "that the period of railroad construction has not passed and that there is now as much need of encouragement—not financial, but of the moral favor and support of the public—as ever."

President Finley is right; the people want more railroads, but they want railroads also which will give them the benefits of competition. Today, to get back to the concrete, other systems are trying to come into Atlanta through Macon, and yet THEY ARE HELD OUT THROUGH THE MUTUAL OWNERSHIP OF THE SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OF GEORGIA SYSTEMS, WHICH HAS ESTABLISHED, PRACTICALLY, A COMPLETE MONOPOLY ON TRAFFIC BETWEEN NORTH AND SOUTH GEORGIA.

This ownership of the one by the other is in clear and positive violation of the state constitution. Everybody knows that if the Southern railway did not own the Central of Georgia, there would be a new competitive line between Atlanta and Savannah. The tracks are all laid now, and ready for business, BUT THE SOUTHERN-CENTRAL COMBINATION STANDS AT MACON WITH A CLUB TO KEEP OUT ALL COMPETITORS.

This is one very interesting concrete instance which the people of Georgia would like to know about. It is to be regretted that Mr. Finley did not discuss it.

"Construction and not destruction," President Finley says, is the only principle on which these great problems can be satisfactorily solved. Again an interesting, but sound, abstraction. Again we can agree with the speaker. But we are impelled to point out that the sort of construction which the people most want and need is that of new railroad lines guaranteeing actual competition. They want "construction" in railways and in other lines of business, but they do not want along with it destruction of competition. The people do not propose to destroy anything, but they have a right to demand that the constitution and laws of the state be respected.

We would be glad to have President Finley take the public into his confidence in these matters which we have pointed out, and others along the same line. If he, and others of like power in the railroad world, would pursue this course, concealing nothing behind abstractions, admitting wherein the railroads are wrong and promising and giving adequate remedy, the people would stand ready to meet them in a spirit of harmony and fairness, perhaps even concession, and satisfactory as well as "constructive" agreement would already be in sight.

NO SIGNS OVER THE SIDEWALKS

Several years ago advertising signboards of all length and weights, insecurely fastened to the walls of buildings, jutted out over the sidewalks of the most prominent business streets in Atlanta.

A sudden wind or decay in the fastenings meant that the signs would crash to the pavement underneath, threatening the lives and limbs of passersby and injuring property.

In addition, they marred the appearance of the heart of the city by giving a ragged and unkempt appearance to its buildings and streets.

Appreciating the menace to life, as well as the esthetic phase, the city council passed an ordinance making it unlawful for signs of whatever nature to extend beyond a stipulated length from the walls of buildings over the city streets.

It appears we are threatened with a return of these insecure and unsightly signs.

About a year ago—in just what manner no one seems to be exactly certain—an ordinance excepting electric signboards from the universal prohibition was enacted.

Now the regular sign painters are complaining. They demand privileges similar to those asked for by the electricians.

The matter should be stopped right here, in its opening wedge stage. No sign, electrical or otherwise, should be allowed to project over the sidewalks constantly used by men, women and children.

The arguments that passed the original prohibitive ordinance apply with double force now.

We do not know who is responsible for the proposed ordinance, or for the one passed a year ago. That is immaterial.

The newly proposed ordinance should die where it is, and the one enacted a year ago should be promptly repealed.

Atlanta, in line with every other modern municipality, has established a sound policy in this direction. Retrogression would be a reflection upon the city and the city administration.

And it will not be tolerated!

ANOTHER GREAT HOSPITAL

The fame of Atlanta's salubrious year-round climate and the number and excellence of her charity and pay hospitals have already made this city the most important hospital and sanitarium center from the Ohio and Potomac rivers to the Rio Grande. Patients from every portion of this wide territory regard Atlanta as a common Mecca, coming here for treatment of diseases of every description.

An article published elsewhere in The Constitution of today forecasts the construction of a great addition to local institutions of this character; rather, an expansion of one which has already demonstrated its usefulness.

The promoters of the Presbyterian hospital now propose to use the subscriptions made to the Presbyterian university project, reaching a total of $250,000, as the nucleus of a $500,000 fund for developing the present hospital into one of the most notable of its kind in the south.

Many of the subscribers to the university fund have signified their willingness to such diversion, and the prospects for the completion of the requisite amount are excellent.

With such institutions as the Grady, the Wesleyan Memorial, the Tabernacle infirmary, St. Joseph's infirmary, and the Home for incurables—not to mention a host of private institutions—already in full operation and planning large improvements, the importance of the projected expansion of the Presbyterian hospital is seen in its true value to Atlanta and the south.

The most admirable features of these institutions are the philanthropic and non-denominational principles upon which they are conducted. Lack of money, as a rule, opposes no barrier to the treatment of the sick man, woman or child, nor is creed or absence of creed permitted to stand in the way of humanity.

Taking its start, scarcely ten years ago, in a small dispensary conducted by Dr. Holderby, the Presbyterian hospital has thrice outgrown its quarters. Last year it treated 437 patients, many of them non-paying, from states widely separated, and already the facilities of its Cain street plant are woefully inadequate.

The Constitution hopes, and believes, that the ambitious and humanitarian plans for a greater hospital will be materialized.

PLENTY OF ROOM IN THE COUNTRY

"Give us a doctor" is an appeal that continues to come in from rural sections throughout Georgia and other southern states.

Recently The Constitution called attention editorially to the advertisements which are constantly appearing in the columns of this paper, offering inducements to good physicians to settle in rural communities in various parts of the south. Within a few days The Constitution has received half a dozen or more communications from widely separated sections, indorsing our comment upon this subject, and showing that this demand is quite general.

As an interesting example of the need for rural practitioners may be taken the letter from Hazlehurst, Ga., reproduced on this page. Hazlehurst is not, in fact, a rural community, but one of the most enterprising and flourishing little cities in south Georgia. The interesting fact is, however, that here is a Georgia county, and by no means the smallest one in the state, with but three practicing physicians in it, all of whom, it is to be noted, are comparatively well to do. There is scarcely a doubt that as many more physicians could do just as well in the same community—our correspondent asserts there is room for half a dozen new ones.

The same is true of some of the mountain sections of north Georgia and other parts of the state, as well as in Alabama, Mississippi and other southern states from which came the recent advertisements.

The trouble, as The Constitution pointed out, lies in the fact that the average graduate of a medical college no sooner gets his diploma and license to practice than he thinks it his duty to get right to some city and hang out a shingle. Finding himself in the maelstrom of competition, there is little for him to do but sit down and wait.

And yet here are hundreds of rural communities over the south crying for physicians; offering opportunities that cannot often be found in the cities; offering and giving more than a competency, for the country doctor who has practiced even for a few years and who has not accumulated property or a bank account is rare, indeed. Often it is both.

The same mistake is often made by graduates of law schools, though there is, perhaps, a difference in the fact that a man is never in so much of a hurry to get to a lawyer as he is to a doctor, when he needs one. Still, many a respectable and profitable law practice has been built up in small towns and rural communities, and there are hundreds of other opportunities like them, waiting to be found.

Professional men are subject to the law of supply and demand, almost as a commodity, and when the market is overstocked, as it usually is in the large cities, there are bound to be some, often many, who, despite worth and attainments, must play a losing game.

The small town and the rural community offer a solution that is well worth looking into. Why not try it?

The Chronicle's Misfortune.

We extend our warmest sympathies to The Augusta Chronicle and Editor Tom Loyless in the distress which has come through the loss by fire of The Chronicle plant. Such a loss is always a source of deep regret, and yet there is an element of satisfaction in the fact that with the energy, enterprise and push at its back the new Chronicle must come out of the fire better, brighter and stronger than ever before.

Thus, while under no circumstances would any one have had it so, there may yet be an element of fortune in the great misfortune, which has overtaken the south's oldest and one of its best and most widely known newspapers. Despite the differences which have existed between The Chronicle and its afternoon competitor, it is gratifying to note the commendable promptness with which Editor Loyless was tendered the use of the plant of The Augusta Herald, and the energy displayed in putting forth the day's issue after the loss of every plate, at a time when the paper was in type and on the press.

While these incidents are characteristic of progressive newspapers, they are no less commendable.

TOBACCO IN NORTH GEORGIA.

Government Expert in North Georgia to Establish Stations.

Gainesville, Ga., March 19.—(Special.)—V. C. Brewer, an expert from the United States agricultural department at Washington, arrived here last week to establish, at the instigation of Congressman Bell, a number of tobacco experimental stations in the ninth district. Mr. Bell accompanied Mr. Brewer to Habersham county, where a station was established near Clarksville. Also Mr. Bell and Mr. Brewer went to Dawson county and are going from there to Gilmer, Towns and Forsyth counties, where stations will be established, and a reliable grower put in charge. Last year there were four of these tobacco experimental stations in the ninth district. This year five have been established. The stations established last year were very successful, and it was demonstrated that the best grade of tobacco can be successfully grown in this section.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

ACTING Upon the motion made by Attorney General John C. Hart, on March 14, the supreme court yesterday appointing the following committee from the members of the Georgia bar to prepare and report a memorial commemorative of the life and character of the late Judge Logan E. Blackley, former chief justice of the supreme court:

John L. Hopkins, chairman; Spencer R. Atkinson, William A. Little, Samuel B. Adams, John S. Candier, Joseph R. Lamar, John C. Hart, Z. D. Harrison, George W. Stephens, John W. Akin, Albert H. Russell, W. B. Price, Robert McMillan, Alex S. Erwin, Joel Brannan, W. L. Grice, Frank H. Miller, W. M. Hammond, John I. Hall, P. W. Meltrim, J. H. Merrill, Leon A. Wilson, Henry R. Goodrich, I. E. Price, Robert McMillan, Henry D. McDaniel, Leander Handman, T. B. Cabaniss, Joseph W. Bennett and Roger L. Gamble.

The supreme court provides in its order that the committee make report to the court at 12 o'clock noon on July 3, 1907, which is the 80th anniversary of Judge Blackley's birth, and at what time suitable memorial exercises will be held.

J. A. Cronk Reappointed.
The supreme court reappointed Hon. Joseph A. Cronk, of Savannah, a member of the board of examiners to pass upon applications for admission to the bar, for a term of six years, from January 1, 1907, to the date of the date at which his former commission expired. The other members of this board are Judge Joseph R. Lamar, of Augusta, and Alex King, of Atlanta.

Wanted Brother to Come.
A peculiar story is told of a young white boy who is inmate of the state reformatory near Milledgeville, but whose name is not on record at the office of the prison commission. About a month ago, the boy made his escape from the reformatory, and no trace of him could be found. The other day he turned up at the institution, and quietly resumed his former routine, not offering any explanation of his absence until questioned about it. Then he said he had found life at the reformatory so pleasant that he was anxious to "have his brother" there with him, so he went home to try and persuade him to come. "But he wouldn't do it," he said. "He's a mutt, an' don't know a good thing when he sees it." The boy had, walking to his home and back, a distance of some 200 miles, with no other end in view, as investigation established the truth of his story.

Commissions Issued.
Commissions were issued yesterday from the adjutant general's office to Captain O. H. Hall, former captain of Company B, Fifth Infantry regiment, as captain and quartermaster of the Fifth regiment, vice W. C. Nunnemacher, deceased, and to H. A. Fife, as first lieutenant of Company K, Fifth Infantry, vice C. H. Mathews, resigned, both of Atlanta.

Judge James in Charge.
As a result of the announcement that money had been received from the United States government by Governor Terrell with which to pay the back claims of the Georgia volunteer soldiers in the war with Spain, the adjutant general's office is being flooded with communications from all parts of the state by those who served in the Georgia commands, and who are desirous of collecting what is due them.

It should be clearly understood that the adjutant general's office has nothing whatever to do with this matter, and will not have; neither has the governor, except in the matter of directing the Georgia volunteer soldiers to be paid in the hands of Judge C. G. Jones, of Cedartown, and all communications regarding these claims should be addressed directly to him. Judge James in connection with Attorney General Callahan and Sizer, of Washington, D. C., had entire charge of collecting this money from the government, and Judge James will have charge of the disbursement of it.

Mr. Callahan will, it is stated, be here on Thursday of this week, and is expected he will bring with him the check for the balance of the money, making a total of $29,400 paid by the government.

As soon as this is received, the work of disbursement will get under way, and will be paid to those holding claims as rapidly as it is possible to do so. It is expected now that the payments will begin early next week.

GOES TO SUPREME COURT.
Allegheny-Pittsburg Consolidation Case Is To Be Decided.
Washington, March 19.—Justice Moody, of the supreme court of the United States, has granted a writ of error bringing to the court the case involving the consolidation of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, Pa. The suit was originally brought by the city of Allegheny to set aside the consolidation. The supreme court of Pennsylvania decided the case in favor of Pittsburgh, whereupon the people of Allegheny presented the matter to Justice Moody with a request that he order the case be brought to the federal supreme court, which was done by today's action.

"Jackies" Wouldn't Fraternize.
James B. Connolly, the author of sea tales, who enlisted in the navy as a second-class yeoman about the first of the year so that he might get material for stories of the American naval service, has been honorably discharged. There was an understanding between Mr. Connolly and the navy department that he might leave the service before his two years enlistment period had expired. He enlisted at the suggestion of President Roosevelt, who thought that the author might do for the American navy what Rudyard Kipling did for the British navy. The failure of Mr. Connolly was due to the fact that his identity was known to his shipmates on the battleship Albatross. The yeoman refused to fraternize with him and it was impossible for him to go ahead with his work under such circumstances. Mr. Connolly intended to remain unknown to the jackies with whom he was serving.

Ahead, Yet Behind.
(From Judge.)
The nervous foreigner got up and went back to the conductor of the street car. "Fardoun, m'deur," said he, "but see car, he run so slow, and why, if you please?"
"Yes," replied the conductor. "We can't help it, though. You see, the car ahead is behind."
The foreigner's eyes opened wider. "Would you mind saying him again?" he asked apologetically.
"I say," argued the conductor, louder than before, "that the car ahead is behind. See?"

The foreigner returned to his seat. "Zee car is read, he's behind," said he to himself. "Most wonderful, most astonishing is zis country!"

TO TOUR COUNTRY

Yesterday.

Will Organize State Unions in Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. Confer With Spillers in New York, and Then Enroute for the Pacific Coast.National President C. S. Barrett, of the Farmers' Union, left yesterday on a month's trip, during which he will travel
from one end of the country to the other in the union's interests.President Barrett will be in White Plains, Mo., tomorrow for the purpose of assisting in the organization of the Missouri Farmers' Union. The union in Missouri is in splendid shape now for state organization, having about 500 or more

CHARLES BARRETT.

local unions, with a total membership of over 25,000. The work in that state has been done largely by H. M. Ray, state organizer, who, it is expected, will be one of the leading state officials.From Missouri President Barrett will go direct to Topeka, Kans., where he has called a state conference for Monday, March 25. Each local union in this conference, and it is expected steps will be taken looking to the organization of a Kansas state union in the near future.The membership in that state is now practically sufficient for state organization.25,000 Members in Illinois.
On Wednesday, March 27, at Marion, Ill., President Barrett will assist in the organization of the Illinois Farmers' Union, which will, at the start, boast about 35,000 members. Of these about 22,000 were recently taken from the Illinois Farmers' Union which, while bearing the same name, was an entirely different institution from the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America, of which Mr. Barrett is president. The National Farmers' Union had also acquired a good membership in the state, so that the new state organization
will start out under the most favorable auspices.From Illinois President Barrett will go direct to New York city, where, with representatives of the Southern Cotton Association, he will meet John R. McCall, representative of the national spinners.Mr. McCall was president of the conference held last May in Washington between the spinners and producers, and still acts in that capacity.The object of President Barrett's visit to New York is to confer with Mr. Mc-Call regarding a conference this summer between the American spinners and the producers of cotton, with a view to establishing direct trade relations between the growers and producers. At this meeting
a date will be set for the conference, which will probably be some time in June. Two places have been suggested for the conference—Atlanta and Norfolk.Some want to go to Norfolk on account of the Jamestown exposition, while others are anxious that the conference be held in Atlanta. President Barrett stated that he proposed to do all in his power to bring the conference to Atlanta this summer.To Visit the Slope.
Upon concluding his tour in New York, President Barrett will go to the Pacific coast. He will visit California and Oregon, in which states the work of organizing local unions is already well
under way, and also Washington, Montana and South Dakota, in which states
he proposes to start the work in motion.President Barrett has received numerous letters from these far western states,
as has also National Secretary R. H.
McCulloch, of Beebe, Ark., urging them
to come out there and assist in organizing the union in those states. Already a number of mass meetings have been held in these far western states, and in many places the farmers are ready for the organization of local unions.Owing to the importance of the work involved, and the long trip which President Barrett will have to take, it will be impossible for him to return to Georgia in time to attend the Sea Island cotton and sugarcane rally of the Farmers'
Union, which will be held in Valdosta on April 2 and 3. Other officers of the union, however, will be there, and the occasion will be made a memorable one.Before leaving Atlanta, President Barrett stated in an interview that more than 160,000 members have been taken into the Farmers' Union since the big convention held in Atlanta on January 22. President Barrett is constantly in receipt of advice from the various state officers, and these show that the union's membership has increased to that extent.The total number of members in the Farmers' Union now probably exceeds 1,200,000. President Barrett stated. He already has hopes of seeing this increased practically to the 2,000,000 mark
within the next twelve months.KODAK HEADQUARTERS

JUDGE CHARLES BARNES
GUEST OF THE PYTHIANSJUDGE CHARLES A. BARNES, of Jacksonville, Ill., supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, reached Atlanta yesterday afternoon, and was met at the depot by Supreme Representative Hamilton Douglas, of Atlanta, and a large reception committee from the Atlanta lodges.The distinguished Pythian was accompanied by Mrs. Barnes and by Grand Chancellor T. H. Nickerson, of Athens, Ga.The visitors were driven direct to the Piedmont, where apartments had been reserved for them, and where, during the evening, they were shown many of the city's sights. Shortly before 9 o'clock last night the uniform rank of Atlanta Pythians, headed by a brass band, called at the Piedmont, and escorted the grand chancellor to the Knights of Pythias hall, where they were gathered nearly every Pythian in the city.As the grand chancellor entered he was greeted with enthusiasm, and as
that subsided he was given a genuine welcome to the Atlanta castle and to the city generally. Chancellor Barnes, who is a finished orator, addressed the assembled Pythians, and to his address the closest attention was given. Those who heard Judge Barnes declare that his talk was not only a fluent one, but was one of the most interesting and charming heard in Atlanta's Pythian hall in years.After the address the grand chancellor was introduced to the Pythians present, and for an hour a most enjoyable time was had.While the grand chancellor was at the hall, Mrs. Barnes was entertained by a box party at the grand, and after there hours there was a social mingling at the Piedmont.This afternoon Chancellor Barnes will be driven over the city by the local Pythians, and will be shown the points of interest. At 4 o'clock and Mrs.
Barnes will leave for Chattanooga.RETURN FROM RUG MARKET.

CALIFORNIA RIVERS RISE.

Portions of Cities Are Inundated,
and Much Damage Done.San Francisco, March 19.—Heavy rains
which have prevailed since last Saturday
have caused the rivers of northern California to overflow and great damage has resulted. A large part of the town of Orville has been inundated and a portion of Marysville is under water. The Mormon island bridge across the American river was washed away last night.At the Folsom state prison two guard-houses were swept away. At Sacramento
no danger is apprehended, as the levees are in good condition. The situation at Stockton, however, appears more serious
as the local streams are higher than for years.

Stepmother Caused Trouble in Weinsberg Family.

Louis, Mo., March 19.—Dr. Julius H.
Weinsberg, a well-known physician, is in a serious condition at the St.
Louis hospital as the result of being shot four times last night by his son, aged 18 years. The boy is under arrest. He said he had only recently learned that his own mother died at his
and the present wife of Dr. Weins-berg's stepmother. This caused resentment and culminated in blood.

SOCIETY

Saturday Luncheons.

DELICIOUS luncheon will be served on Saturday at the home of Mrs. G. A. Nicolson, on Forrest avenue, when Mrs. Barbour Thompson and Miss Nannie Nicolson, as chairman of a committee raising funds for St. Luke's church, will have charge. The luncheons will be served from 12 until 3 o'clock, and a number of Atlanta's most attractive young women will assist in entertaining the patrons.

Vaudeville Evening.

A number of people will take part in the "vaudeville" which is to be held the Wednesday after Easter at Marist college hall, and thus there is an unusually large personal and friendly interest in the event. Pretty girls and attractive young matrons will make the "living pictures" which are to be a feature of the entertainment, and the grand closing tableau has been promised the assistance also of a suitable number of men.

Recital.

MISS ESTELLE MITCHELL, of Rome, and Miss Leonora Owensley, of Atlanta, will give a joint recital in the school house in Kirkwood Thursday night. Miss Mitchell is one of the best-known readers of negro dialect in the south. Miss Owensley, as soloist in the choir of All Saints church, needs no introduction to the people of Atlanta. Her rare sweet soprano voice and Miss Mitchell's readings will captivate their audience. Admission, 25 cents. The recital is given for the benefit of the Kirkwood Methodist church.

To Miss Norwood.

MISS MARTHA MITCHELL will entertain very informally at tea this afternoon in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Norwood, of South Carolina, the guest of Mrs. Edward Calhoun.

D. A. R. Meeting.

THE Piedmont Continental chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held a most interesting meeting in the parlors of the Piedmont hotel, on the 15th. Mrs. S. M. Dean, the regent, reported a number of revolutionary relics secured for the Jamestown exposition. Mrs. George McKenzie read a most interesting paper on "The Characters of the Women of the White House." Miss Lucy Hines gave a full historical sketch on "The Building of Washington." The chapter will give a tea at an early date to augment the fund pledged for the Georgia column at Continental hall. The treasurer was instructed to forward to Miss Benning $50, for the above purpose.

Beautiful Miniatures.

APPRECIATIVE of the miniature in art is being expressed by a number of Atlanta people, and recently there have been completed by well known artists several veritable works of art in this particular line. Frederick Vein has just finished a miniature of the late J. B. Whitehead, which is not only a joy to the latter's family, which realize in it the most lifelike portraiture, but to those appreciative of the artistic value of the work.

The miniature is brooch size, framed in pearls, and in delicacy of color, exquisite technique and spirit, could not be surpassed.

Kate Mackubin, the well known painter of children's portraits, who has been in Atlanta this winter, has just finished two charming miniatures, one of little Katherine Dickey, daughter of Mrs. James Dickey, and little Hugh Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman.

The work sustains her reputation as one of the best miniature painters in the country.

The beautiful face of the late Mrs. Martin Amorosa has been artistically portrayed in miniature by Lucy Stanton, the young Georgia artist, whose miniatures hung in last year's salon, and she is sending a group to the coming Paris exhibition.

Novelties in Veils.

THE veil will be an important part of the headgear this season, and the milliners are showing a number of beautiful ones. They are of lace, tulle, net, chiffon and tissue, and in almost every color.

Those of black lace and white lace are of delicate pattern, and will add dressiness to any hat with which they are worn.

A novelty is in the colored veils; in the dark shades of blue, green, brown, red and violet, with white dots on them, and edged with a narrow thickly set silk fringe.

Others have embroidered borders, and are smart and becoming.

Heavily dotted black veils with borders are worn with any colored hats, while for automobiling or outing parties, the veils have more body to them than formerly, and can be worn as scarfs as well as veils.

For the smart face veils, the brown dotted ones, and those of gray or white with black dots, seem to prevail.

For Organ Fund.

THERE will be a musicale at the Central Baptist church, corner of Garnett and Forsyth streets, Friday evening, March 22, at 8:15 o'clock, for the benefit of the organ fund. The following excellent program has been arranged:

PART ONE.

Opening remarks and prayer, by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Motley.

"Staccato Etude," Vogrich—Miss Annie Laurie Langford.

(a) "Life's Lullaby," Lane; (b) "Absence," Mearns—Mrs. J. H. Whitten.

Reading, "A Newport Romance"—Miss Lilly Margaret Ford.

(a) "Sun of the Puzza," Keller Bella; (b) "Kulawak," H. Wieniawski—Mr. Dave Silverman.

Prologue, "Il Pagliaccio," R. Leoncavallo—Mr. C. Marion Hood.

Reading, "The Picnic at Selina," F. L. Stanton—Miss Lilly Margaret Ford.

(a) "Love, the Pelican's Groom; (b) "She Is So Innocent," Hesfield—Mr. Tom H. Weaver.

(a) "Zingaro," Gustav Ellertson; (b) "The Mockingbird," Silverman—Mr. Dave Silverman.

(a) "Nearest and Dearest," Caracole; (b) "The Honeymoon, from Love's Lottery," Edwards—Miss Langford and Mr. Hood.

A small admission will be charged, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

The Cooking School.

THE second day of the cooking school being operated under the auspices of the ladies of the Sheltering Arms Society, repeated the success of the first day, and there was an enthusiastic class present when Mrs. Stevens, the lecturer, appeared on the rostrum and began her demonstration of the dishes discussed. The ladies with their notebook and pencil jotted down what she had to say. Not only are Mrs. Stevens' recipes as demonstrated by her instructive and valuable, but her talks are inspirational and she has taught her fair patrons to see the real art of cooking. She has stimulated their interest to that extent when they are calling for books and authorities on the subject. Ever alive to the occasion, Miss Wallace has established a bulletin board at the library, where there are timely suggestions, not only as to books on cooking, but along all lines of domestic science. Under the bulletin are a number of reference books and essays on the subjects, and a list of books about the same.

After the regular lesson there were the active exhibits being made by Atlanta manufacturers of cooking utensils and general kitchen equipment. Hot rolls were baked on the most approved range, heart-shaped waffles and pancakes were being made; the aroma of delicious coffee tempted the taste; there was ice cream as a dessert, also frozen ginger ale, and the instantaneous gelatine, pretty to look at and good to taste.

The classes will continue today, Thursday, Friday and Saturday with the usual exhibition in the afternoon, including music and living pictures.

Among the delicious Lenten dishes which Mrs. Stevens includes in her little booklet of kitchen lore are the following:

Omelet Supreme—Make a plain omelet. Before folding it, put in the center creamed minced chicken. Fold the omelet, turn on a dish. Cover the top with tomato sauce, in which chopped olives have been cooked. Have sauce thick enough to hold in place.

Orange Omelet—Four eggs. Four tablespoons orange juice. Four tablespoons sugar. Beat yolks and white separately and fold in. After the omelet is on the dish, sprinkle with powdered sugar and pour over a red hot poker.

Eggs in Nest—Whip to a stiff the whites of as many eggs as needed. Put on a flat dish and make little hollows. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and drop into each the yolk of egg with a small piece of butter on each. Place in moderate oven for eight minutes; serve at once. Garnish with parsley.

Eggs à la Goldenrod—Chop the whites of hard-boiled eggs, mix with a cream sauce and put on toast. Crumb the yolks put through a sieve on the top in the shape of goldenrod.

Eggs with Cheese—Four eggs. One-half cup cream. One tablespoon butter. Two tablespoons cheese. Salt and pepper. Put butter and cream in omelet pan. When hot slip in eggs one at a time. When whites are nearly set, sprinkle cheese and seasoning. Serve on toast and pour cream over it.

The success of the cooking school at the Turn Verdin hall, on North Forsyth street, has been greatly pleasing to the ladies of the Sheltering Arms Society, but it has been discovered that many are laboring under the impression that only those who had subscribed for season tickets at $1 were entitled to admission. Single admission tickets are on sale daily at the door or by any member of the society at 25 cents each.

Meetings.

The board of managers of the Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and those interested in the bazar to be given Friday are requested to meet at Mrs. A. McD. Wilson's this morning at 11 o'clock.

The Nineteenth Century History Class will meet this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with the president, Mrs. F. H. Orme.

The ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will hold their regular meeting Thursday afternoon, March 21, at 2 p. m. in the Knights of Pythias' hall, Klier building. All members are urged to attend.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of the ladies' auxiliary to the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, held in the rooms, No. 31 1-2 East Alabama street, Wednesday, at 3:30 p. m. All members are urged to be present, as business of an important nature will be discussed.

Social Items.

Miss Effie Strickler, of Richmond, arrived in the city yesterday as the guest of her brother, Dr. C. F. Strickler.

Quite a number of Atlanta people are planning to spend the summer abroad.

Master James Dixon Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson, was christened on Sunday evening. Rev. Orme Flinn performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the families of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Paine and Mrs. Paine are among those erecting summer cottages near the Athletic Club grounds at East Lake, and it is predicted there will be quite a golf settlement in the vicinity of the club.

Colonel and Mrs. W. A. Wimblish have returned from a trip to Florida.

CONSTITUTION PATTERNS
PRICE ONLY TEN CENTS

A WARM COAT FOR A LITTLE MAI design for a coat which is a bit out of the ordinary is suggested as a suggestion for the home dressmaker. The closing is effected at one side of the front under the tuck, while the straight panel effect, front and back is most becoming. Such a coat is easily made, as no fitting is needed except on the shoulder, and one can follow the directions on the pattern without further concern. The garment hangs easily from the shoulder and the tucks add to its warmth. Velvet collar, cuffs and trimming straps as suggested in the sketch are attractive trimming. The medium size, 1 5-8 yard of 54-inch material. 4135—Sizes, 2, 4, 6 and 8 years. The price of this pattern is 10 cents.

Pattern Dept. The Constitution. Enclosed please find 10 cents for which send me the above mentioned pattern, as per directions given below:

THE PARIS HOME OF BUTTERICK FASHIONS

Millions of Butterick Patterns Have Been Sold Here

No greater tribute could be paid to the superiority of Butterick patterns than their sale in Paris, the very heart of fashion creation.

THE April DELINEATOR

THE SPECIAL SPRING FASHION ISSUE

is complete in its announcement of the Spring styles of New York and Paris, many beautifully reproduced in color.

All women who are lovers of individuality in dress should read the illustrated letters contributed by

MRS. OSBORN of NEW YORK
"AMERICA'S FOREMOST FASHION AUTHORITY"

Every woman who reads The Delineator will receive helpful suggestions from Mrs. Osborn's fashion letters and the designs and illustrations in them which are drawn by Mr. Carl Kleinschmidt under her special direction.

The April Delineator contains many beautiful drawings by

HENRY HUNT

America's celebrated painter of fair women.

There is no greater fashion authority than The DELINEATOR $1.00 a year, 15 cents a copy

There are no patterns so perfect as BUTTERICK PATTERNS 10 and 15 cents, none higher

You can get THE DELINEATOR of your newsdealer, or any Butterick agent, or of THE BUTTERICK PUBLISHING COMPANY, LTD., 84 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga

For the Spring Weddings

Look at our Silver, and compare it with any other displays. Does it not surpass all the others in its rich beauty and the variety of its selection? We draw, not from any one great source for our collection, but it is composed of what you would deem the most artistic designs from the several foremost silver manufacturers of the country, and that means of the world. This suggestion should mean something to you if you are interested in any of the Spring weddings.

Pure Food Law Has No Effect—

That is on Nunnally's Candy. We are told that some candy makers found it most inconvenient to comply with the pure food law. Our candy was already the standard of excellence and purity.

Pure, clean, wholesome candy is as easy to make as any other—when one knows how and is willing to stand the expense. It is more expensive, and some manufacturers consider expense even at the sacrifice of quality. Our policy has always been the reverse.

$1500—Vacant lot on North ave., near Hunt st.

$2100—Vacant lot, size 54 by 174, on North Boulevard, near Highland.

$3000—Vacant lot on Eleventh st., just off Peachtree, 60 by 150.

$4000—Lot on Currier st., less than 20 blocks from Peachtree. Size 50 by 175. As though this were not cheap enough, a good 5-room house is thrown in.

$5000—A large house in an excellent neighborhood between Baker and Shiloh, on 10th street, side near the Candler building. As an investment this will net about 10 per cent. Also an offer.

$7250—Within four blocks of the Candler building, on a good-sized lot, 6-room house, on a good-sized lot. This is in a section where owners frequently refuse to consider any offer for their property.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

BUSINESS AND INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES ON THE SEABOARD AIR LINE RAILWAY.

OVERALL FACTORY—In a thriving little city just a few miles from Atlanta, the opportunity for an overall or hosiery manufacturer is unusually attractive. Ample white labor is available, cloth for overalls for hosiery can be secured from nearby mills, and a substantially built, electric-lighted building with steam facilities can be leased or purchased on most reasonable basis. Some local capital can be enlisted in this proposition if desired.

PLANING MILL AND LUMBER YARD. This location could not be excelled for the purpose. It is in the very heart of the pine and hardwood belt of the Carolinas, with a reasonable radius of numerous small saw mills, but no planing mills or lumber yards to compete with. The town is growing rapidly and will speedily become a great lumber center. Materials within a few miles. An acre of ground suitable for establishment of plant and yard will be donated to the right party. A minimum of $50,000 capital will be required to handle this to the best advantage and $10,000 would earn very handsome profits.

CRUSHED STONE PLANTS—Contractors, builders and street paving concerns find it difficult to secure crushed stone for their work even at the high prices prevailing. There are several plants available where crushed stone plants would prove extremely profitable, and where conditions are such as to insure economical and continuous operation. Locations embrace either granite, stone or limestone, and still to be located in the right party. A minimum of $50,000 capital will be required to handle this to the best advantage and $10,000 would earn very handsome profits.

EXCELSIOR PLANT—The Birmingham district and territory west thereof consumes immense quantities of excelsior for the market demand is great. The good old Excelsior Plant, located on Coal City west into Birmingham, penetrates and will develop an absolutely virgin territory. The Excelsior Plant and Birmingham are enormous quantities of plant, with some hard-wood ranging from sugar to the diameter of 12 inches. It is suitable for excelsior stock. Timber rights can be purchased on a most attractive basis, and arrangements can be made with owners to cut the wood to dimensions desired and deliver it to plant. The manufacture of excelsior articles, in conjunction, would prove profitable.

INDUSTRIAL EARTH DEPOSIT—This is the largest single deposit of industrial earth I have ever seen. It is located in the heart of the Birmingham district. This material is useful in the manufacture of polishing powders and scouring soaps, but its most profitable use is in the manufacture of dynamite, packing for boilers, steam pipes and safes and as a base for fire clay and other purposes. It is also of value in the manufacture of fire-proof building materials and is being introduced into the market for these purposes. In the hands of a practical man the development of this deposit is going to prove very profitable, and it can be secured on a reasonable basis. Royalty would be acceptable.

COMMUNITIES ON THE SEABOARD. Are cordially invited to communicate with us in regard to any opportunity in going to the Seaboard, where available and which no one is taking advantage of locally because of other interests demanding all of their time and attention and capital.

FOR additional information, concerning the above or a list of other inviting opportunities in the Seaboard's territory, call on or address H. B. BIGHAM, Asst. Gen'l. Industrial Agent, 1109-11 English-American Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

COTTON MARKETS
VERY UNSETTLEDPrices Reached New Low Level During Day.Uncertainty Regarding Showing of Census Report Due at 2 O'Clock on Wednesday, Easter Liverpool and Wall Street
the Cause.

New York, March 19.—The cotton market was weak and unsettled during the day's trading, with prices reaching a new low level for the downward movement and selling between 65 and 75 points under the high figures reached earlier in the month. The close was steady but at a net decline of 14 1/2 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales. The opening was steady at a decline of 3 1/2 points in response to lower cables and continued good weather. There was heavy pressure against the market right after the call, apparently for both long and short account, and prices soon increased there. There was some covering on a scale down, but not sufficient to cause any rally of importance, and the lowest point was reached in the late trading when they sold at 9 1/2 and July at 9 3/4, or about 18 to 21 points net lower. The close was a little up from the lowest on covering. Big receipts for the day and rumors for tomorrow's uncertainty regarding the showing of the census report due at 2 o'clock tomorrow, easier Liverpool cables and unsteady conditions in the market, were the factors influencing the decline, while there also seemed to be an impression that the bull market had abandoned whatever intention they may have had with reference to the May position, which once more sold a little under July. Southern spot market was unchanged to be lower.

Receipts at the ports today 32,488 bales against 30,960 last week and 21,974 last year. For the week (estimated) 160,000 bales against 147,895 last week and 70,822 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,038 bales against 7,474 last year and at Houston 12,542 bales against 8,537 last year.

DO IT NOW, TODAY!

Now is the time to add nature in the spring of the year, while we are under the change. Dewberry's Delight, when properly used, will prevent you from being sick at the beginning, and after and turns on the nerve force, which we need at this time of the year. It helps nature to throw off the impurities, so we can hold on through the hot summer months. If you will take Dewberry's Delight according to the directions, when you first suspect the need of a good medicine at the beginning, it will insure you against 20 per cent of all the ailments that are likely to attack the human system, as it removes the cause of disease by acting directly upon the most essential organs, the liver, bowels and kidneys, thereby removing the four main causes of disease, colds and influenza, which there must be here any disease can attack the system, there will be no food for the germs, of nature always cures when the cause is removed. Have your druggists to send you out a bottle of Dewberry's Delight and, and prepare your system for the future. Nothing better to aid nature than taken in time at the beginning. Price only 50c per bottle for all druggists.

higher. Provisions were 12 1/4 to 12 1/2 cts. 15c lower.

Wheat manifested a moderate decline on the opening of the market, but was supported by pit traders, who were influenced by lower cables and liberal receipts in the northwestern States. The market for corn, however, the market had regained much of the early loss and as trading progressed sentiment became still more bullish.
